B.C. ELECTRIC SECURES CAMPBELL RIVER POWER

Sixteen Persons Are Plunged to Death in Few Hours in Airplane Accidents

DEATH TOLL FOR ONE DAY IS SIXTEEN

Series of Airplane Accidents in Twenty-Four Hours Brings Death List to Heavy Total

OTHERS INJURED ARE NUMEROUS

Fatalities Are Widely Scattered Geographically and Canada and United States Suffer Alike

IN the brief space of a few hours at least sixteen persons plunged to their deaths yesterday in five geographically widely separated airplane accidents.

Six persons perished when a passenger plane crashed and burned between Marston and Thorold, Ont.

Four died in an air collision over Chicago.

Two were killed at Berkley, Cal., when a plane took fire in the air and crashed into a house.

A young woman parachute jumper died at Wichita when the apparatus failed to function.

Near Minneapolis the pilot of a plane was killed when he lost control of it and made an unnecessary parachute jump.

Two men were instantly killed at Oakland when their airplane went into a tailspin.

INJURED ARE MANY

Sixteen passengers in a six-motored plane from Denver, which took the occupants to McCook, Nebraska, to attend an air meet, barely escaped death or injury in a forced landing in a rough field near McCook. The ship was almost wrecked.

L. V. Rex, of Portland, Ore., was seriously injured at Medford, Ore., when an airplane piloted by E. T. Muirhead crashed. The pilot was not hurt. The crash occurred when the craft struck a power line.

Believe Bodies Found Those of U.S. Soldiers

RHEIMS, France, Sept. 14.—Several bodies, believed to be of American soldiers killed during the Great War, were found today by workmen rebuilding the Chateau des Grande Bois near here. Since the workmen immediately notified the authorities without further disturbing the bodies, the number and identification remained uncertain.

The men were sure, however, that buttons and buttons found beside the bodies were American.

SAFETY PARACHUTE FAILS

WITCHIA, Kas. Sept. 14.—Helen Williams, twenty-one, was killed today when her parachute failed to open after she jumped from the airplane of Miss Elinor Smith, endurance flyer, in a demonstration of a safety parachute. Miss Williams fell 2,000 feet.

Beatty, president of the C.P.R.; (2) Lord Shaughnessy; (3) Dr. H. A. Beatty, the president's brother, chief surgeon of C.P.R. and Toronto Western Hospital; (4) Mr. W. A. Black, railway director; (5) Sir George Garneau, of Civil Service Commission at Ottawa; (6) Sir Charles Gordon, president of the Bank of Montreal; (7) Mr. Ross H. McMaster, president of the Steel Co. of Canada; (8) Mr. F. E. Meredith, director of Canadian Pacific Railway, and (9) Dr. Charles F. Martin, a friend of Mr. Beatty. Other directors joining the party are Mr. J. A. Richardson at Winnipeg, Sir Herbert Holt at Calgary, and Mr. W. Blake Wilson at Vancouver. Colonel Henry Cockshutt is with the party, but not shown with the directors pictured above.

Party of Canadian Pacific Railway Directors to Reach City Monday on Inspection

VANCOUVER, Sept. 14.—Accompanied by a number of directors and other well known financial men, President E. W. Beatty, of the Canadian Pacific Railway, will arrive in Vancouver at 9:30 a.m. Monday on a special train. The party will leave at once for Victoria, where Mr. Beatty will open two floors of the new wing of the Empress Hotel.

It is expected that President Beatty will return to Vancouver on Wednesday and will remain until Thursday when he will leave for the Peace River Country.

Accompanying the president are: Sir Charles Gordon, C.B.E., president of the Bank of Montreal; Rt. Hon. Lord Shaughnessy, K.C.V.O. and Messrs. W. M. Tilley, K.C., Toronto; W. A. Black, Col. Hon. Henry Cockshutt and Ross H. McMasters, all directors of the C.P.R.; Chas. F. E. Meredith, K.C., director Canadian Pacific Steamships; Dr. Charles Camneau; and Dr. Charles F. Martin.

Sir Herbert Holt was detained in Montreal, but joined the party at Calgary, and Mr. James Richardson, Winnipeg director of the road, joined at Winnipeg.

They were accompanied over the Rocky Mountains by Mr. A. D. Mackie, vice-president, and from Fort William were accompanied by Mr. D. C. Coleman, vice-president of Western lines, who will make the trip to the coast and return.

On their return they will make their first official inspection of the lines of the Alberta & Great Waterways Railway, recently taken over under a joint operating agreement with the Canadian National. Returning via the Kettle Valley Railway they will go to Tadanac, where they will inspect the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Company plant. From Trail they will proceed to Strathmore, then to Edmonton and the Peace River country.

TO MEET McGILL GRADUATES

The opening of the portion of the Empress Hotel extension ready for use will be a private function.

Mr. Beatty, in company with Dr. Martin, Dean of the Faculty of Medicine of McGill University, will meet the McGill University Graduates' Society of this city on Tuesday.

B.C. EGG POOL MAKES FINAL DISTRIBUTION

Last Distribution for Third Full Period Will Provide Producers With Sum of $47,967

POOL IS MAKING STEADY PROGRESS

VANCOUVER, Sept. 14.—The British Columbia Co-operative Egg & Poultry Association, better known as the B.C. Egg Pool, has just made a final distribution of $47,967 on the third full period, which extended from July 20 to August 31.

The total number of eggs handled during that period was 768,377 dozen and payment was made on the various grades as follows: Extras, 35c; a dozen; firsts, 31c; pullet extras 26c; seconds, 17 1-2c; cracks, 17 1-2c; blocds, 13c; pewees, 19c. A deduction of half a cent per dozen and all grades was made for the purpose of a reserve fund.

The total of eggs handled in the three pools during the period from July 20 to August 31 was 3,670,921 dozen, and the prices ranged from 50c to 46c per dozen, basis extras.

EGGS TO OLD COUNTRY

One of the main operations was the export of 7,000 cases of eggs to the United Kingdom from the cold storage plant at New Westminster on August 26, which will be followed by another shipment on September 18.

The head office reports that the pool is making steady progress and that new contracts are being received daily.

Anti-Communist Mob Shoots Mill Worker

GASTONIA, N.C., Sept. 14.—A mob of anti-Communists watching the highway from Bessemer City to Gastonia, to prevent millworkers from attending an advertised meeting of Communists and members of the National Textile Workers' Union, late today, shot into a truck in which twenty mill workers were riding and instantly killed Mrs. Ella May Wiggins, of Bessemer City.

It is expected that Sir Herbert Holt will return to Vancouver on Wednesday and will remain until Thursday when he will leave for the Peace River Country.

Accompanying the president are: Sir Charles Gordon, C.B.E., president of the Bank of Montreal; Rt. Hon. Lord Shaughnessy, K.C.V.O. and Messrs. W. M. Tilley, K.C., Toronto; W. A. Black, Col. Hon. Henry Cockshutt and Ross H. McMasters, all directors of the C.P.R.; Chas. F. E. Meredith, K.C., director Canadian Pacific Steamships; Dr. Charles Camneau; and Dr. Charles F. Martin.

Sir Herbert Holt was detained in Montreal, but joined the party at Calgary, and Mr. James Richardson, Winnipeg director of the road, joined at Winnipeg.

They were accompanied over the Rocky Mountains by Mr. A. D. Mackie, vice-president, and from Fort William were accompanied by Mr. D. C. Coleman, vice-president of Western lines, who will make the trip to the coast and return.

London-Cape Route to Be Longest Yet

LONDON, Sept. 14 (British United Press).—The longest airway in the world—an 8,000-mile route from London to the Cape—is to be inaugurated by the Imperial Airways early next year.

The flight of the great 20,000-mile flight of Sir Alan and Lady Cobham, the Short Long Short Royce flying boat, a route through Egypt, Palestine, Iraq, the Persian Gulf, across deserts and jungles, has been mapped out.

Agreements have been made with the various Governments concerned for supporting the air line, and preparations are now being completed for its opening. Passengers and mail will leave London every Saturday in a giant triple screw Armstrong Siddeley air liner, and will arrive in Capetown nine days later, having flown by a combination of big air liners and all-metal flying boats.

PAPER MAKES ATTACK UPON CONFERENCE

London Daily Strongly Protests Against Policy of British Premier on Naval Affairs

BRITISH PEOPLE AGAINST NOTION

Calls on Mr. MacDonald to Emulate Mr. Snowden and Stand Firm for Nation's Necessities

LONDON, Sept. 14.—The Morning Post, Conservative, dissented today from the general welcome accorded the announcement in Washington of a probable naval limitation conference in December, between Great Britain and the United States. The Post, always a big navy advocate, and suspicious of any move for limitation of Britain's sea forces, declared:

"The British people are nervous about these disarmament negotiations and don't much like this American notion of measuring the British navy with a yard-stick nor the precipitation with which Mr. MacDonald has rushed into the subject.

The paper then demanded that when Mr. MacDonald went to Washington to emulate Mr. Philip Snowden, Chancellor of the Exchequer, in his stand at The Hague, he "stand firm upon the necessities of his own nation."

Aside from The Morning Post, the tendency was to acclaim the prospective naval accord. The Daily Express, assuming it is just a fait accompli already, hailed it as "a first class event in the world's history, far exceeding as a guarantee of peace any pact we have developed, including the Locarno and Kellogg agreements."

The Chronicle opined that if Mr MacDonald and Mr. Hoover could have their own way one result would be an agreement to share the policing of the seas instead of duplicating it; the paper said it hoped for such a development.

U.S. INVITED TO JOIN WITH WORLD COURT

League Assembly Proposes to States That It Becomes Member of the Permanent Court of Justice

RESERVATIONS OF U.S. THOUGHT MET

GENEVA, Sept. 14.—The United States of America, by unanimous vote of the Assembly of the League of Nations, today was invited to become a member of the Permanent Court of International Justice at The Hague.

By adopting the protocol embodying proposals formulated largely by Mr. Elihu Root, famous American jurist, the Assembly cleared away all outstanding obstacles which had been recorded as blocking American participation in the world tribunal. The same session of the Assembly adopted another protocol which affects revision of the statutes of the World Court defining new degrees of qualifications, duties and emoluments of World Court judges.

GO TO WASHINGTON

The two protocols will be forwarded without delay to Washington for consideration of the American Government. Delegates and League officials tonight were confident that the reservations of the United States had been met and were hopeful that the powerful non-member of the League would see the way clear to accept membership in the court and co-operate in the work of this agency for the peaceful settlement of international disputes.

AWARDED MEDAL

TORONTO, Sept. 14.—Miss Anne J. Harvey, B.E., C., matron in chief of the Christie Street Hospital, was today presented with the Florence Nightingale medal by Her Excellency Viscountess Willingdon.

RESCUERS TRY FRANTICALLY TO SAVE MAN

Buried in Great Pile of Coal Miner Was Trapped in Cave Without Chance of Escape

ABANDON HOPE OF SAVING HIS LIFE

TACOMA, Sept. 14.—Deep down in the Carbonado Coal Mine a double crew of rescuers were frantically digging at a huge pile of coal which holds the body of one of their comrades, Ryan Rogers, forty, father of two children, who was trapped in a cave-in Thursday night.

All hopes of finding the entombed man alive were abandoned today when his only possible haven of safety was covered and no trace of the victim found.

A companion who had been working with him left the cave scene a few minutes before the crash, and as he returned in the darkness the huge fifty-foot pillars of coal that supported the roof of the crosscut began to crumple. He shouted a warning but Rogers was unable to get clear

Great Britain Has New Machine That Flies, Swims and Ruhs

LONDON, Sept. 14—British United Press.—Great Britain has produced a machine that flies through the air, floats on the water and runs over land—and there's no amphibious name invented for it yet.

This remarkable craft has had its first trial flight and was pronounced so outstanding success. The machine is a Moth, built by the De Havilland Company. It was designed and constructed at Rochester by the Short Brothers. The machine is tiny and holds only two persons. It can manoeuvre on the ground on small rubber tires, float on water on a special pontoon fitted below the hull, and take off into the air from either land or water.

In test flighting the machine, the pilot took off from the water and landed on the ground at Croydon by simply lowering the rubber wheels below the hull. From Croydon he again took off and alighted on the water.

Military experts point out that such a machine will have great value in overseas fighting, as it enables the pilot to take off and land on either land or water without first tampering with his landing gear.

SLAVE TRAIL TURNED INTO RAIL TRACK

Opening of New Railway Line Makes It Possible to Cross Africa From Coast to Coast

GREAT ENTERPRISE BROUGHT TO CLOSE

CAPETOWN, Sept. 14 (British United Press).—A notorious old-time slave and caravan road through Portuguese Angola has come at last within the civilizing influence of the railway. Up to the end of the century, millions of human pack animals were staggering down the trail from Katanga to Loisto Bay, leaving their dead in thousands. Chained slaves also passed this way, to be crammed into the holds of ships bound for Brazil and the Cocoa Islands of West Africa.

The recent scene at the opening of the new railway formed a happy contrast with the barbarism that men still living can remember. At the modern port of Loisto Bay with its cranes and deep-water wharves, there was none of that where once the slave ships were loaded. Instead there was the disembarkment of the great African Plateau zone as steel road has been taken the place of the heavily burdened human animals.

BUSH AND DESERT

For 800 miles through tropical bush, desert and forest runs the new line, until the Belgian Congo frontier is reached. Then the line, following the railway ends, but by the end of next year the Belgians will have linked their line through the Congo to the Rhodesian terminal at Lobo. The new chapter in the story of African development has begun.

Mr. MacDonald to Reach Ottawa in Middle of October

OTTAWA, Sept. 14.—It is now anticipated that Premier MacDonald may sail for Canada at the end of October.

Premier Mackenzie King announced some days ago that Mr. MacDonald would come to Ottawa following his conference with President Hoover. Definite word now having been received that Mr. MacDonald will sail for the United States on September 28, it is thought that he may be in Canada about the middle of next month. Premier King has held up plans for his westward trip until he knows about Mr. MacDonald's arrival.

Chinese Pirates Hold Norwegian Ship for Ransom

PEKING, China, Sept. 14.—The Norwegian Legation here announced that the Norwegian steamer Bothnia was in the hands of pirates off Haichow, and her captain and chief officer were being held for ransom. The pirate chief has demanded of the Government $50,000 Mexican money for their release. He said if the money was not forthcoming in ten days, both men would be killed.

THREE INJURED IN CAR SMASH

SPOKANE, Sept. 14.—Three persons were injured, one probably fatally, in an auto accident near Dishman, Washington, late today. The injured: Mrs. Ralph E. Landenberg, Los Angeles, fractured skull, internal injuries; Ralph Landenberg, her husband, Los Angeles, fractured shoulder and internal injuries, and Mrs. John A. Grayak, Spokane, cuts and bruises.

Certificate of Approval Is Signed by Minister of Lands

While Government Has Already Much Data, Company Intends to Conduct Extensive Investigation to Determine Economical Development for Campbell River and Lakes

THE British Columbia Electric Railway, through its subsidiary, the Vancouver Island Power Company, has been given the opportunity by the Government to make a survey and submit plans setting out the scheme proposed to develop the Island's largest water power, Campbell River and Campbell Lakes. Hon. F. F. Burden, Minister of Lands, yesterday signed the certificate approving of the undertaking by that company, such permission allowing eighteen months within which to conduct the examination.

EFFECT ON ISLAND

The importance of the project to the industrial development of the Island is that the company stands pledged to develop the undertaking in the interests of the whole island, at an estimated ultimate cost of $10,000,000.

The great cost of the project is appreciated when it is realized that the installation of a single transmission line from Campbell River to Victoria is set down at $1,750,000.

The fourth unit of the hydro-electric development at Jordan River, now in process of installation, will carry the development there to 42,000 horsepower. This will give an additional 13,000 horsepower. When it is completed the limit of hydro-electric development from the Jordan River will have been reached.

It is anticipated that the Jordan River plant, fully developed, will take care of the needs of Victoria and vicinity until 1933.

The power demands of this district, which have been growing, until the last two years, at the rate of 3 per cent, increased in 1927 by 15 per cent, and last year by 20 per cent.

FORTHCOMING EXPANSION

The company, in keeping with its promise to the water board to develop the undertaking in "the truest engineering and economic sense" has acceded to the inquiry in the application of the National Utilities Corporation, Limited, owning or controlling five public service undertakings on Vancouver Island.

It has entered into negotiations with Sooke Harbor and Qualicum Beach areas looking to service, and has already commenced extensions from Bamberton to various points in the Shawnigan Lake district.

To meet the industrial demands for power of the existing companies, several lines have been extended and a plant have been given to supply service to industries accessible to the transmission line, while the company stands pledged to use the services of its industrial department to encourage the establishment of industries in the Island.

The company feels that it has the confidence of the industrialists, as exemplified by the attitude of the Canadian Crown-Willamette Company in agreeing to withdraw its application for the water rights, with the guarantee of supply from the operating company.

Plane Collision Cause of Death Of Four Persons

CHICAGO, Sept. 14.—Two airplanes colided at an altitude of 800 feet here tonight, carrying four persons to their death. The dead are identified as Pilot W. Meyers, licensed flyer; Mrs. Benjamin Burke, his passenger, and sister of the owner of his plane; Pilot C. Crowe, an unlicensed pilot, and William Johnson, Deerfield, Ills., his passenger.

Soviet Fleet Action Angers Polish Press

WARSAW, Poland, Sept. 14.—The Polish press today expressed indignation at what they characterized as the provoking manoeuvres of the Soviet fleet near the Polish coast. Battleships, cruisers and destroyers passed two miles off the shore of the Hal Peninsula and Port Godnia.

Glacier Gives Up Body After Eighty Years

VIENNA, Sept. 14 (British United Press).— The body of eighty-three years, the Oradon Glacier in East Tyrol, has delivered up one of its dead. The body of a man, a gamekeeper named Mastersburn, was recovered after more than eight decades in an almost perfect state of preservation, especially the upper portion. His features were easily recognizable, and his watch marked the very hour at which it is recorded he fell into a deep crevasse.

TWENTY-FIVE BISHOPS HAVE BEEN INVITED

Four Archbishops Also Expected at Civic Banquet in Connection With Opening of Cathedral

ELEVEN SPEAKERS ARE TO BE HEARD

Four archbishops and twenty-five bishops, as well as many other leaders in the affairs of the church, and forty-nine local ministers of all denominations, are on the list of invitations issued by Mayor Ascomb for the civic banquet to be held at the Empress Hotel on the evening of September 25, in honor of the consecration, on the same day, of the new Christ Church Cathedral.

His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, Premier Tolmie, members of the Cabinet and the judiciary, directors of Christ Church Cathedral Buildings, Limited, aldermen of the city and reeves of the surrounding municipalities, members of local boards and representative leading citizens, making altogether a total of 180, have also been invited by the mayor.

The occasion will be both an outstanding event of deep and enduring significance in connection with the activities of the Church of England in Victoria and on Vancouver Island, and an important epoch in the history of the city. On to previous occasion have so many dis-

Forester Reports on Forest Fires Observed at Island Places

While there are at present no forest fires in the vicinity of Courtenay, two were noticed yesterday north of Ladysmith, near Dodd Narrows, according to Mr. F. H. Gorman, junior forester for Victoria district, who arrived in the city yesterday afternoon.

Two small fires are burning on a hill five miles out of Duncan, and another is smouldering near Somenos Lake. The Somenos fire started on September 5, according to Mr. Gorman.

Mr. R. C. St. Clair, district forester, and Mr. W. Ross Plumerfelt were at Courtenay yesterday reviewing the forest fire situation on the Island.

The fire near the mill of the Kapoor Lumber Company, Sooke Lake, is now reported under control.

Application Granted for Island Power Company to Make Survey of Watershed

BASIS OF APPROVAL

On or before February 28, 1931, the company must file with the water branch of the Department of Lands the details of its plans for development of the power there, and in turn those plans have to receive the approval of the department before the company will be able to proceed with its work.

The approval of the undertaking by the Minister will give the power company an opportunity to go on the ground, and conduct the investigations necessary looking to the evolving of a plan for developing the available water power on Campbell River.

The period of eighteen months is regarded as none too long a time in order to allow the company to carry on its investigations. The B.C. Electric Company, or its subsidiary, the Vancouver Island Power Company, under which the application was made, will have to investigate sites for the dams necessary. It will have to make borings at various places for the purpose of ascertaining the character of the ground, looking to the building of dams, and other necessary works connected with the undertakings.

The Government has on hand considerable information in the offices of the water branch, all of which will be available to the company, but the corporation plans to make its own investigations. The proposition is a large one, the largest, it is believed, on Vancouver Island.

Pending an opportunity to make at least a cursory survey of the situation by the engineers of the company, Mr. A. T. Coward, vice-president of the B.C. Electric Railway, did not care to forecast the company's plans. He expressed his great pleasure at the announcement.

The plan of procedure by the Government, following the filing of plans by the company, and if these are found satisfactory to the department, will be to issue a conditional licence in which will be specified the time for the commencement, and the completion of the undertaking planned.

While the department is not ready to lay down any policy in the matter, it is expected that there will be required of the company immediate construction following the filing of the plans. Moreover, stringent terms for the progress of the work will be imposed.

A KEEN FIGHT

The race for the Campbell River power has been a rather keen one. The Crown Willamette Company was granted an exclusive opportunity under the former government to examine the location looking to securing in it a power plant there, the immediate objective of which was to be the erection of a pulp mill, to be supplied with power from this plant. Repeated extensions of time for examination into the location was granted the company under the old government, and just before the handing over of the reins of power to the present administration, a further extension of a year's time was given.

Some time after taking power the present government, as a matter of policy, felt that the water power proposition at Campbell River should not be confined to one company alone in order to avoid indefinitely and decided to lift the reserve and allow all who wished to utilize the site to make applications.

Within the time allowed several companies sought to get rights there, and when the water board sat to consider these rights, there were applying for the right to utilize it three companies, the B.C. Electric through its subsidiary the Vancouver Island Power Company, the Strathcona Power Company representing old holders of rights there, and the Campbell River Power Company which had also been an original staker on the ground. The Crown Willamette Company did not appear intimating to the board that it was agreeable to the B.C. Electric obtaining the rights there.

TO HEAR OBJECTIONS

Since that time the matter has rested with the Minister of Lands awaiting the hearing of all objections or otherwise which might come from parties interested before making a decision upon the recommendation from the water board.

The decision has now been handed down, and the rights to proceed with the examination of the locality from the standpoint of development is given to the B.C. Electric company.

The filter company will have its view the carrying out of plans that look to the supplying of power to it, but will be in a position to use that power in connection with their business. It will be the object of the company to seek consumers both in the form of municipalities, and also in the line of industrial concerns in the way of an effort which will be a gainer by the utilization of the opportunities that exist there for carrying out a power proposition.

FINE WATERSHED

Campbell River is regarded as the largest water power prospect on Vancouver Island. The river is fed from the glaciers and snowfields in the provincial reserve of Strathcona Park. These waters pass in turn through Buttle Lake, with an area of 7,186 acres. Upper Campbell Lake with 1,350 acres, and Lower Campbell Lake, 3,200 acres.

About a mile and a half from the lower lake there is a fall of 300 feet. About five and a half miles farther along the river enters a canyon of great beauty. Bear Falls, Moose Falls, Deer Falls and Elk Falls are in turn passed, during which time the river drops some 360 feet in a distance just under two miles.

A conservative estimate by the Government engineers places the storage possible at the securing of a flow of 2,000 cubic feet per second, from which under a total head of 450 feet there would be derived 76,000 horsepower continuously.

FAIR FALL AT SAANICHTON DUE THIS WEEK

All in Readiness for Exhibition of North and South Saanich Agricultural Association

HON. W. ATKINSON TO OPEN SHOW

SAANICHTON, Sept. 14.—Entries are pouring in for the Saanich fair which will be formally opened by Hon. W. Atkinson, Minister of Agriculture, on Wednesday, September 18, at Agricultural Hall, Saanichton. The fair presents a wonderful opportunity to see the products of Saanich. It is expected that the exhibits of fruits, field crops, flowers and vegetables will be particularly good and the competition for the Burbidge and J. R. Scoby Cups promises to be very keen.

The annual school sports will be held in the afternoon, and every event will be strongly contested. A special event of the Highland dancing contest will be the "Quadrille" competition of the Saanich Pioneer Society. As all the old-timers are splendid dancers this event promises to be very interesting. There will also be a comic school band competition, the judge of which will be Reeve W. Crouch, of Saanich; Mr. F. W. Bruce, president of the Saanich Board of Trade, and Mr. H. A. McKillican, president of the Sidney Board of Trade.

The following judges have been appointed: Fruit, Mr. J. W. Anke-sell-Jones; vegetables, Mr. S. Ray; field crops, Mr. W. Randall; horses, Mr. W. McKirdy; sheep and hogs, Prof. R. R. Dawe; cattle, Prof. R. R. Dawe; goats, D. MacLean; poultry, Mr. T. Aldersley; rabbits, Mr. J. R. Greenwood; domestic science, Mrs. F. M. Kipp; honey, Mr. W. J. Sheppard; ladies work, Mrs. I. M. Abbott.

A lunch room will be supplied; lunch and afternoon tea to be provided on both Tuesday and Wednesday.

The society's annual ball will be held in Agricultural Hall on September 20.

begin can hardly be more romantic than the story of difficulties overcome during the construction of the line to Beira.

Cecil Rhodes saw the need of a railway line from the south of the isolated Katanga copper belt country to the sea. He planned it with an ambitious engineer, Robert Williams, afterward knighted, whose influence is felt in the remotest corners of Southern Africa. In 1903 Williams secured a concession from the Portuguese Government to build the line.

DIFFICULT TASK

The survey was a task full of hardship. Capital was shy. The country, with its waterless stretches and lack of labor, repelled the adventurer of the engineers. Again and again the work stopped while politicians questions were settled, additional money sought, and new routes explored. The world war delayed progress. But Williams clung to his concession, forced the line further and further into Angola, and brought it to a point where success could no longer remain in doubt.

The opening ceremony at Lobito marked the end of an effort which initiated a quarter of a century and cost many millions of dollars. And when the Boigians have built their stretch of 400 miles of roadbed it will be possible to cross Africa from coast to coast by rail.

Abandoned Ship Golden Forest Worth $500,000

SEATTLE, Sept. 14.—The abandoned freighter, Golden Forest, which with a battered hull is now built on the north side of Sheliker Straits, Southwestern Alaska, is worth $500,000 with her cargo. She recently left Seattle for Japanese ports under Captain L. C. Dawson.

Owned by the Oceanic & Oriental Steamship Company, the vessel left San Francisco for Dairen on July 13. She was ashore on Avalanche Island, Unimak Pass, on July 24, when steaming far out of her course to meet the cutter Haida and transfer a member of the crew who was stricken with blood poisoning.

After being refloated by the Pacific Salvage Company's tug Salvage King, she started south under her own steam, convoyed by the salvage ship, and ran aground in Sheliker Straits on September 1 during a heavy fog. Attempts to refloat her proved futile and she was abandoned to the mercy of the wind and waves.

MYSTERY OF MISSING MEN IS UNSOLVED

No Trace of Crew of Andaste Found Following Storm on Lake Michigan —Hope Runs Low

WHALEBACK CRAFT WRECKAGE LOCATED

GRAND HAVEN, Mich., Sept. 14.—Twenty-four men and a boy are believed to have perished in the wreck of the freighter Andaste, which went down in a storm on Lake Michigan last Monday night.

The water is deep where the vessel sank and fishermen of this port said that they believed many of the bodies never would be recovered. The Andaste, which was a steel semi-whaleback, a type of freighter seldom seen now because it is unsuited to the rough waters of the Great Lakes, cleared from here for Chicago at 9.30 p.m., Monday night. A heavy sea was rolling and the ship apparently was heading towards Ottawa Beach Harbor, he said. While he watched, the lights disappeared. Wreckage identified it as part of the Andaste was washed ashore Wednesday.

FURNITURE NOW IN NORTH WING

Miss K. Treleaven, Secretary to President, Supervises Decoration of New Rooms at Empress Hotel

SCHEME MARKED BY QUIET GOOD TASTE

The furnishing of the ground and first floors of the Empress Hotel has been conducted under the supervision of Miss K. Treleaven, private secretary to Mr. E. W. Beatty, K.C., president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, who arrived here from Montreal on Thursday. Miss Treleaven, who superintends the decoration of each of the long chain of hotels before important guests are received, is said to have secured effects obtained in the Royal York Hotel, Toronto.

The decoration of the new wing of the Empress is extremely simple, without being severe. There has been no striving after excessive ornamentality, the general motif being carried out in quiet tones with nothing harsh, or even startling, to upset the prevailing restfulness.

The predominating note is blue and cream. The carpets have a conventional blue pattern on a fawn ground. The walls are plain cream and the furniture is in cream. The fugiture is of dark wood and perfectly simple in design, at the same time conveying the impression of good taste without extensive art, and comfort without opulence.

SUGGEST TAX FOR PUBLICITY FUNDS

Pugel, Saunders and British Columbian Incorporated Organized Financing

At yesterday's meeting of the Pugel Saunders and British Columbians, Incorporated, which was held in the Chamber of Commerce, the advantages of organized financing of community advertising by means of state and provincial taxation were discussed at length, with the result that it was decided to work upon a programme which would materialize within two years, at the end of which period the time would be ripe for requesting the imposition of such a tax.

Mr. Fred Crone, of Vancouver, who occupied the chair was of the opinion that the system of public subscription had now become too large and to warrant its continuance in the face of the rapid growth of the organization. It was necessary to have a stabilized fund which would not vary from year to year, length of time.

The system of funds raised by taxation, pointed out Mr. George I. Warren, publicity commissioner for Victoria and the Island, was in force today in California with the result that Los Angeles County had a $486,000 fund for the year, and San Francisco $378,000. It was the suggestion of Mr. Willis Bridley chairman of the publicity committee of the Chamber of Commerce, that good use could be made for publicity purposes of a percentage taken from the gasoline tax. Mr. David Leeming, secretary of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau, said that it was not enough to advertise the facilities for tourist. The time had arrived when the public should be told of the work which was being carried on by the various publicity organizations. Mayor Herbert Anscomb was in favor of a direct tax by the province or state rather than by communities, which would not necessarily levy such a tax even though they were given the right to do so.

DELEGATES TO CONVENTION ENTERTAINED

Street Railwaymen Now in Session Tendered Lunch Yesterday by Local Organization

MR. A. T. GOWARD EXTENDS WELCOME

Both Mayor Anscomb and Mr. A. T. Goward, vice-president of the B.C. Electric Company, Limited, extended greetings to some 900 delegates to the twenty-first biennial convention of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees at the luncheon tendered to them yesterday by Victoria Local, No. 109, in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium. The visitors came over from Seattle, where the convention is being held, in the morning and after being taken on sightseeing trips in the afternoon left in the evening for the Sound city.

Mayor Anscomb spoke before the luncheon, as the visitors had been considerably delayed by fog and the mayor, who had waited some time for their arrival, was anxious to get away. He told them he was extremely glad to welcome them on behalf of the city if for no other reason than the fact that Alderman Dewar, who had been a member of the city council for ten years, was a member of the association.

He regretted that stay was so short, as they would miss much they would be delighted to see. He mentioned that the local organization was extremely loyal to their association and hoped they would all enjoy their visit here.

Mr. A. T. Goward said he was very glad, on behalf of the B.C. Electric Railway Company, to extend them a welcome here, especially as there were so many from the other side of the imaginary boundary line. He believed, he said, that the association still had its international president who had been in control for the last thirty-six years.

Although he had not been in charge in Victoria for such a long period as that he had lived here long enough to appreciate the fact that his job here had been made easy by the executive and men of the local organization, than whom there were no better lot of men in the country. He was glad to be present on this occasion and he hoped they would all have a very good time while in the city.

Mr. W. D. Mahon, international president, said that on an occasion such as the present no one was expected to inflict a long speech. He was very glad they were being entertained in Victoria, "the most beautiful spot on God's footstool."

Owing to the large number present, the luncheon had to be served at two sittings and the other speeches scheduled to be heard from Alderman Woodward and from Mr J. J. Torrance, local president, were not made.

CLERK IS SHOT PLAYING BANDIT

Young Fellow Shot by Colleague While Staging Practice Against Probable Hold-Up

ST. CATHARINES, Ont., Sept. 14.—Gordon McKelvie, seventeen-year-old bank clerk, died at the General Hospital during the night from the effects of a revolver bullet wound received early last evening while playing with another bank clerk in the mock branch of the Imperial Bank. Donald Fraser, seventeen, was placed under arrest over the occurrence charged with wounding and inflicting grievous bodily harm and released on $5,000 bail.

The boys, who had been working overtime, were playfully staging a practice against holdups, using the two revolvers in the teller's cage. McKelvie assuming the role of bandit and Fraser acting as the defender.

The boys took the precaution of removing the .32-calibre shells from the weapons, as they thought. Apparently one cartridge was overlooked, for after each had fired his gun about four times, using match heads under the firing-pin to register fire, a real report sounded. McKelvie crumpled up on the floor with a bullet wound through his stomach. Fraser called the police and ambulance and gave himself up.

Fierce Fires Lay Waste Forest Heritage

EYES TURNED TO DISTRICT

Peace River Is Receiving Greater Measure of Attention Than Any New Section of Canada

SUGGESTED VISIT OF LEGISLATURE

No other part of the Dominion of Canada is attracting more attention at present than the Peace River. No doubt this interest has been intensified by the actively manifested by the two major railway companies to get connection with that territory.

"In three years time a man who will oppose the construction of a railway into the Peace River will be laughed at," said a recent visitor to that part of the province, and who in the course of his tour made a quite complete survey of the part now under cultivation.

On the way out this resident of Victoria met the delegates to the Canadian Chamber of Commerce convention on their way in. They had reached Pouce Coupe, and that would probably be as far as most of them would get. These delegates were delighted with what they saw, but the local man coming out informed them that he had been all the way to Port St. John, a distance of something like fifty miles as the crow flies from Pouce Coupe, and through the whole of that intervening section the conditions were similar to what the delegates of the convention were seeing on their southward short trip.

SUGGEST VISIT

There has been a move in favor of having the members of the Legislature of British Columbia go into the Peace River this Fall. Such a move is practically impossible with in the short time at their disposal now. The arrangements in the line of transportation alone precludes such a trip. It is felt.

It is more than likely, however, that at the coming session of the Legislature the matter may be raised and some arrangements made looking to the invasion of the Peace River District by the members of the Legislature next year.

Hon. W. Atkinson, Minister of Agriculture and Hon. F. P. Burden, Minister of Lands, who has also an interest in the territory in his representative in the House, will likely visit the district this Fall.

CULTIVATED AREA GROWS

From the representative of the Department of Agriculture in the Peace River, Mr. J. Travis, has been received information that during the year 1928 there has been 20,000 acres of land under cultivation within the Peace River block. In the year some 12,000 acres of new land were brought under cultivation. There was an area of 3,000 acres in Summer fallow.

The value of the crop for the year has been placed at approximately $600,000 from all grains produced. The value of the cattle produced is placed at $45,000, and of the hogs during the year, $25,000.

Ontario Premier Laying Low and Saying Nothing

TORONTO, Sept. 14.—Ontario can rest assured and rely over the week-end without expecting an announcement of dissolution of the Ontario Legislature, according to Premier G. Howard Ferguson, in a statement to the Canadian Press today.

"There will be no announcement today or tomorrow," said the Premier; "I am very busy at the present time."

Despite the Premier's statement the rumor at the Parliament Buildings persists that the old Legislature is ready to be signed by the Lieutenant-Governor.

BISHOP ROPER TO BE HEARD HERE

Will Preach Sermon at Last Service of Public Worship in Old Cathedral Building

To the Right Rev. J. C. Roper, Bishop of Ottawa, and a former Bishop of Columbia, is to be given, on September 22, the honor of preaching the last sermon at a service of public worship in the old Christ Church Cathedral. In making this announcement in today's issue of The Cathedral Leaflet, the Dean writes:

"Dr. Samuel Johnson once said, 'We never do anything consciously for the last time, however small, without some sense of sorrow.' There will be many sad hearts, thankful, too, we hope, next Sunday, as they remember that never again will they worship in the dear old building. Who better could interpret such feelings than the Bishop of Ottawa, Right Rev. Dr. Roper, some-time Bishop of this diocese, who will be the preacher at evensong."

FIRE MENACE REACHES PEAK

Situation Is Worst Yet Known at This Period of Year—More Fires Than in 1927 and 1928

Reviewing the fire situation for the week, the Forest Branch places the conditions at present as about as dangerous as ever experienced at this season of the year. All are warned to exercise the greatest care in order to safeguard the forests.

The Chief Forester, Mr. F. Z. Carverhill, reviews the situation as it exists at the end of the week as follows:

"At the end of last week some relief from extreme hazard occurred in the southern Interior but a recurrence of high winds, low humidity and higher temperatures has again brought on dangerous conditions. Fires in some sections have killed the vegetation and this has added to the hazard.

"Throughout the remainder of the province there has been some increase in hazard and no change in weather conditions is expected for some days.

"During the week there was a marked falling off in fire occurrence, seventy new fires being recorded as compared with 233 during the worst week in August.

"Altogether conditions are about as dangerous as ever experienced at this season of the year and the public is requested to exercise extreme care with fire in or near the forested areas."

The number of fires reported this season has been 1,851 as compared with 1,462 at this time last year and 1,341 in 1927.

DR. S. F. TOLMIE'S REPUTATION

It is no very difficult matter to trace to their source the malign influences behind the latest attempt to traduce the character of Dr. S. F. Tolmie, the Provincial Premier, and members of his Cabinet. It is all a part of the clandestine work undertaken by the political opponents of the present Government in the effort to injure in that administration in the eyes of the people of British Columbia. So-called Conservatives, who are alleged to have a grievance against the Government, have been drawn into the plot and some of these have banded together under the title of a Conservative organization with headquarters at Vancouver. It is not their own fancied disgruntlement which is inspiring their aerial propaganda. There are other motives, one of which is the desire to act as "king-makers" in the Provincial arena and place their own tools in the seats of office. To achieve this end the game of helping forward the Liberal cause is being enacted. The chief weapon used in that of a campaign of whispering, consisting of libelling the characters of certain Ministers of the Provincial Government.

Among the cloud of contumelious rumors which is thickening over the purlieus of political life in this Province there is one that is directed specifically against the reputation of Dr. Tolmie. It is to the effect that during his year in office, and because of being in office, he has succeeded in making considerable sums of money. The rumor, like all such, has had something added to it as it is retailed from mouth to mouth. In the words of Pope—

"And all who told it added something new."

And all who heard it made enlargements too.

This rumor originated through the fact that the Premier has been able to pay off a mortgage against the Tolmie Farm since he assumed the reins of Government in this Province. We must apologize to Dr. Tolmie for intruding into his private affairs in order to set at rest a malignant rumor which is designed to injure his political standing. The facts of the situation, as anyone who would trouble to make inquiry could ascertain, are that prior to the general election in which the Conservatives were returned to power last year, and before Dr. Tolmie was a member of the Provincial Legislature, he was persuaded by some of his friends to buy shares in a company at a very low price. The advice was given to him out of sheer kindness because it was known that he was very, very far from being in competent circumstances. In the course of time, and after he became Premier, the said shares considerably appreciated in value; in fact they were a very high price. The money which Dr. Tolmie invested was increased probably forty-fold. He thus found himself in a position whereby he was able, by selling out a percentage of his shares, to redeem a long-standing mortgage against the Tolmie homestead. His pride in his home and in his farming field. The lack of the particular investment was shared in, to a greater or lesser degree, by thousands of others in this Province.

On the basis of the foregoing happening Dr. Tolmie has been made the target of a campaign of abuse carried on through subterranean channels and designed with the object of injuring his political career. It is a sinful comment on the ways of political heelers in this Province that such a campaign should be tolerated for an instant. It is a damning indictment of certain political ethics that any man's private affairs, and affairs which in every sense are entirely beyond reproach, should be misinterpreted with the object of dragging a political reputation into the gutter. It may be mentioned, incidentally, to show the character of the friendship which inspired those who induced Dr. Tolmie to make a fortunate investment, that, after he was chosen as Premier of the Province, these same friends were strongly in favor of purchasing him a very desirable property as a residence. When he heard of the move that was afoot Dr. Tolmie said that he could not think of accepting such a gift. He said he would rather end his days in the home where he had begun them than think of letting his friends assist him to such an extent. His great ambition, indeed, has been to restore the old Tolmie homestead, which, for him, has always been fraught with family endearments and lifelong recollections of his association with the Province he loves so well. Through a fortunate investment, made before he assumed political office in this Province, he has been able to achieve his desire, at least in part, and that incident, which touches the heart strings of family life, has been made the subject of an attack on his political reputation. Anything more despicable in the political arena it is impossible to conceive. It is an instance of the degradation into which some political minds can sink.

Those who know Dr. Tolmie never for a moment believed the rumor that has been spread. In all the affairs of life his reputation, and that of his family, has been beyond reproach. The new generation may know little of his family history, yet it is one indelibly associated with the annals of the Province and, always, in a way of which our people have been proud. They are no less proud at this time in having such a man in office as the present Premier whose whole political career has been an evidence of outstanding integrity and of an undivided desire to benefit his country, his Province and the place of his birth. In all his actions, and there is not one which will not stand the full glare of publicity, Dr. Tolmie has been inspired by sterling motives. His private life—as well as all his public associations—has been that of love of home, delight in fair dealing, and never has there been a suspicion of any action that could be construed as a desire to benefit himself at the expense of others or because of any political position which he has held. Rumors such as those to which we have alluded should be scotched in their inception. The opponents of the present Government must be in a poor way indeed when they have to resort to lying and turgid innuendo in a vain attempt to attain personal ends.

C.P.R. DIRECTORATE'S VISIT

The visit here tomorrow of Mr. E. W. Beatty, the president, and a party of directors of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, in the particular to give both old and new address. course of an annual tour of the chief centres of the West. The personnel of the party making such tours seems to grow more ample in each succeeding year. As well as Mr. Beatty this year there are with him such notabilities in the financial life of the country as Sir Charles Gordon, president of the Bank of Montreal, and Sir Herbert Holt, president of the Royal Bank, together with others who, as well as being directors of the C.P.R., are concerned with the guidance of policies and administration in scores of corporations which are bound up with the development of the Dominion. The C.P.R. policy, perhaps as much if not more than that of any other corporation in the country, is such that those concerned with the part which it plays in our progress should be versed at first hand with the various aspects of life in the different centres of population. That is an instance of the character of the policy which has made the C.P.R. one of the most admirably conducted institutions in the world.

Mr. Beatty and the directors on their present visit will are brought to fruition the latest tribute of the company to the place which this city occupies in their scheme for developing the resources of the Dominion. The new wing of the Empress Hotel, involving a cost of $2,500,000, is about completed, as well as the building for the substantiality of the company's investments here, it is an indication of the faith of the C.P.R. in the prosperity which is to be derived by the tourist traffic. That faith has been duplicated and reduplicated within recent years. The vision which led lately to the provision out of this port of two of the finest ferry passenger service steamers in the world has been justified. It is a vision which is being expanded by an elaboration of the policy of adding still further to the B.C. Coast S.S. fleet, and the two further vessels, now in the hands of the builders, will be delivered here for coastwise purposes during the coming year. The additions to the Empress Hotel and to the coastwise fleet are complementary, and that both should have been conceived on such a scale illustrates anew the deep and optimistic interest which the Canadian Pacific has in this port.

Since the advent of Mr. Beatty as president of the C.P.R. he has been enterprise personified and there is no undertaking of any magnitude upon which the company has embarked under his regime that has not been justified to the full. That is an eloquent testimony to his farsightedness and executive ability. It is a still greater tribute to the personality of the president that he should have consolidated and strengthened his hold on the good-will of the employees of the company. That is one of the bedrock secrets of the success of the Canadian Pacific Railway. It is one that, to a degree, affords greater satisfaction to Mr. Beatty than any other. An engineer, and especially one on a large scale, must derive keen pleasure from the knowledge that all those who obey his dictates, be they in high or low place, do so with the confident belief that they are acting in the best interests of the organization of which they are a part. That is the kind of inspiration that Mr. Beatty has inspired. It explains the loyalty which permeates the company throughout all its manifold ramifications. Mr. Beatty is no less a great personal asset to Canada than he is to the company which he directs with such unerring acumen and ability. Among all the interests that have contributed to the making of Canada the C.P.R. stands first. It is standing, as well, always on the threshold of still greater accomplishments, continually being matured in the wisdom of its executive for the greater prestige and the riper development of the Dominion.

THE VANCOUVER STAR

The passing of The Vancouver Star into new ownership marks the disappearance, for the time being, of General Victor Odlum from the newspaper field in this Province. While in it, as a newspaper owner during a period of five years, he has set a high mark of journalistic achievement. The Star, under his direction, has been both a clean newspaper and a clean competitor. He has resorted to none of the tricks of the trade known to the unscrupulous. He has never maligned his newspaper competitors, but in the conduct of The Star has always shown fairmindedness and honest dealing. In his criticism of his political opponents he has dealt with measures and not men, a motto that might well be kept at the masthead of every newspaper which expects to hold the public confidence. He has won the confidence of newspapermen throughout the Province, and that is something that he will always cherish. General Odlum will be missed in newspaper life, but he has left such a legacy of achievement that he can re-enter the field at any time with the knowledge that there is a warm welcome awaiting him.

SANS REGRET

Oh, little town, you're held me long.
Oh, little town, replete
With scar of flying sword
And thud of spying feet!

I bid you now a glad good-bye.
I've tarried over-long
To you an utter stranger, I
And nothing to me any song.

I seek the consolation
Of a more congenial land,
The just appreciation
Of souls who understand

Oh, little town, you've held me long.
Oh, little town, good-bye.
With bowl of lying gossip
And prying eyes to spy.

—E. Leslie Spaulding, in The Chicago Tribune.

HUNTING JOY

How sad a face this Knowledge wears!
How strange is Truth, which none can doubt!
How easy is an Eden made,
How hard to keep the Serpents out!
How easy to create a Joy,
How hard to hold it safe and fast.
Since half the world would hunt it down,
As Flame, or Love, can prove at last.
I'll make my Joy a secret thing
My face shall wear a mask of care,
And those who hunt a Joy to death
Shall never know what sport is there!

—W. H. Davies, in The London Observer.

Note and Comment

By R. E. G.

Members of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce have been in the West looking things over and talking over things. When the men of business arrived in the West they soon found out that if they desired to look things over thoroughly and talk about them intelligently they would have to extend their investigations more than a Sabbath day's journey to the North. They were told, and were furnished with proof of what they were told, that the mineral wealth of Canada would be found in the North. They were told that the best wheat and the most abundant crops of it were grown and reaped this year to parts of the country that a year or less ago were considered far beyond the bounds of the grain belt.

* * *

In the North, while the Winters are severe, they are not appreciably longer than in the lower regions. Altitude plays a more important part in the production and maturing of crops than latitude, for the days are long and growth is rapid. Just as the southern parts of the Prairie Provinces possess heavier and better crops than the Dakotas and Minnesota so do the southern parts of them. That is what we are told, and experience is beginning to prove that there is at least a good deal of truth in what we are told.

* * *

Thus the bounds of Canada are becoming wider yet. The thin prairie soil which was all supposed to be intended along the northern boundary of the United States has become a broad expanse of cultivation as far to the almost illimitable regions of the North. The Hudson Bay Railway, about which we were all sceptical when it was first talked about, while it may never amount to much as a money-maker, opens the Northern interior of Canada to the ports of Great Britain, has already proved that it will be available as a colonization road. It will develop great agricultural areas as well as rich mineral regions. The names of the North will be producing shortly. Agriculturists have settled along the line in increasing numbers, a brisk demand for their products in new towns and mines. Already vegetables and fruits have been grown five hundred miles north of The Pas.

* * *

Of course the members of the Chamber of Commerce who spent out the great western land with an eye upon future business were taken to the Peace River country, a considerable portion of which lies in British Columbia, and asked to look it over. They agreed with all which had been said about it, although most of what was said was not even extravagant to persons who have never seen it. There was a practical certainty of a good crop in the country. There was no crop failure in the Peace River country. None of the wonderful crop history has been carried far and wide and settlers are pouring in in great numbers. Settlers are also being warned that the country never can be what nature intended it should be until it has a railway with transportation facilities. If it were furnished with rail communication with the Pacific Coast, its natural outlet, the Peace River country would speedily become the most productive and prosperous section of the West. But the very richness of the country, strange as the assertion may seem, is proving an obstacle to its progress, for there is population enough in the cities and districts which hope to profit by the business of the Peace as to the most pessimistic and feasible routes over which to transport its products to the markets of the world

* * *

The members of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, while they noted the partial crop failure in the West, did not note that the partial crop failure appeared to be having any appreciable effect upon the general business situation in Canada. In many sections of the Canadian railways admit that their business may ultimately be affected to some extent by the crop situation, but the business they have lost in one direction appears to have been recovered in other directions, for thus far there has been no noticeable decrease in their earnings. If they are carrying smaller quantities of wheat, they may be carrying larger quantities of other products and greater numbers of passengers.

* * *

The prosperity of Canada is no longer based upon agriculture. According to the present trend of industries, the time may not be very far distant when agriculture will no longer be the basic and chief Canadian industry. Canada is already a great, mineral-producing country and her manufactured products are rapidly increasing in volume and value. Where almost unlimited water power is and diversified natural resources are, there will manufactories multiply and the people prosper. Thus it may be said of Canada that in certain very important respects she is a newly-discovered country.

THE RACING STALWART

Dear Sir,—With reference to your editorial headed "The Racing Stalwart," which appeared in yesterday's Daily Colonist, in which you state that the steerage of the Colwood Park Association are not firm in their attitude towards owners whose horses do not run consistently. As one of the owners I should be glad if you would allow me to say a few remarks. It will be at once acknowledged that a law of the Province governing race-tracks do not run consistently, but this condition exists on many other courses.

Horses are not machines, though some people imagine they are, and it's a perfect marvel that some of them are able to run at all considering the many times they appear on a race course.

Taking a few horses from official records I find that since January, 1928, Pintrich has run forty-four times, Bull Run forty-one, Sunny Smile, sixty-one, Old Sixty-four, Quinine fifty-one, Alice Lorraine fifty-nine, and many others with equally long performances.

To support my statement that horses are not race courses, but fast as erratically as those we have at Colwood, I refer you to Harry Green Sheet the following instances:

Dr. Freeland won the Frankenstein this year and ran absolutely last in a neighboring states, as did the Rosnert Handicap and last in the Providence Derby. Jumbo won the Wood River Purse and ran last in the Cowpens as he also did when against the same horses on the same track. Whiskey was first at Latonia and last neal out when leaving Detroit. King Charles was first in Blue Bonnets and last next out, being backed at two to one on him.

Many other instances could be quoted, but the above number will occurs on every racecourse in the world.

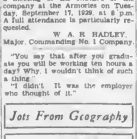
Jots From Geography



THE small industry of France is growing more important every year, especially in the sea. Paris alone eats almost two million pounds of snails every year and millions of pounds are exported to other parts of the world. They are fed once a day, usually in the evening. They are particularly hungry after a rain, when a bed of 100,000 snails will consume a wheelbarrow load of cabbage. The best quality of snails is fed on bran soaked in wine. A half million snails can be raised on an acre of ground, and farmers in the department of Jura devote their whole time to snail culture.

UNDERWRITERS HOLD MEETING

CO-OPERATION AND FAIR DEALING AMONG INSURANCE MEN STRESSED

President Cannell of the Canadian Underwriters Association Addresses Members

There were no vacant seats in Spencer's dining-room at noon yesterday when President J. W. Dobbs of the Victoria and Island Underwriters' Association introduced Mr. Hugh Cannell, the Dominion president of the organization, to the local members. Prior to the guest of the luncheon taking the floor, Mr. Dobbs referred to flattering terms to Mr. Cannel, remarking that he had been born at a sequestered place called St. Mary's, to the Isle of Man; that he had come to Canada as a young man and had prospered materially; because of his great ability. He was a big man to the insurance world, and everyone connected with the work to Canada owed him a lot of gratitude for the work he had accomplished in their interest.

Mr. Cannell, on rising to speak, referred in a jocular way to Mr. Dobbs's references to the Isle of Man and particularly to his birthplace, stating that if it had not been established before was born, it certainly would be known to future as the place where he had first obtained his start in life. After the few pleasantries he dealt seriously with Mr. Cannel spoke of the wonderful hospitality and good treatment which had been accorded him in Victoria. Continuing, he said, he loved it, he said, paying it tribute for the spirit exemplified to business as well as in a social way. He had become particularly enamored of British Columbia, and he had by himself business twenty years ago he would not now be a resident of Montreal.

BIRTH OF ORGANIZATION

Touching on the object of the association, Mr. Cannell recalled its inception in 1908, when, as a result of the agitation against insurance was instituted, and it was to counteract ill-advised legislation that might accrue as a result of this newspaper notoriety that caused the Underwriters' Association to come into existence. It was at an informal dinner held to Montreal that organization was first attempted. The caliber of the men attending that initial meeting was sufficient guarantee that matters of insurance were to safe hands and the companies to be behind them. It had a standard insurance now enjoys is the outcome of the association's efforts and the average agent owes is far more than he may imagine.

The old order was infested with evils which had to be eradicated. That was conceded and understood. Dealing was to be taken a common practice. Agents would forego their first year's commission, and offer a portion of the second year's, to order to get business. This was how the throughout the work done by the association. The agents were not to be selected with a standard to understand the fundamentals of the business and to advise intelligently just what insurance means. In the past it was a common saying that the insurance calling was the last refuge of the incompetent. This was not the case today, although rewriting and twisting is possibly not entirely eliminated.

CYNIC OR BUILDER

Mr. Cannell then briefly favored the get-together meetings and luncheons which had proved so beneficial to insurance men. It was the duty of every member present of meeting one another that insurances men had achieved their present position. The spirit engendered at these gatherings was of the most important factor in success and made for sound business ethics. He believed that everyone selling life insurance should belong to the organization. A real man would take his place in the bout and pull an oar for his share of the load for the benefit of all. The field of insurance was a boundless one and daily there were new prospects, although in the last year of the year 54,000,000,000 worth of insurance was in force in Canada, of which $3,675,000,000 was controlled by Canadian companies. He recalled that a fifth part of estates probated was insurance value. It was a great work insurance men were engaged in aiding in the protection of the home. They were not consumers but were not selling an ordinary commodity. Life insurance was different from all else. He advised his hearers to be aware of cynicism, an easy fault to drop into. He had never heard of a cynic doing himself or anybody else any good. Enthusiasm was the driving force in everything worth while has had ever been accomplished without it. They should have no hesitation in approaching a prospective client, for the latter will be the advantage of the man approached. The insurance man had a niche to fill and he should be proud to fill it.

REMARKABLE ADDRESS

Mr. Haugh moved the vote of thanks to the guest speaker and it was seconded by Mr. McGregor Both men were and seemingly referred to the address as the most inspiring ever listened to by the insurance men of Victoria. The vote of thanks was carried unanimously.

Two members were admitted to the association, Mr. Russel of the North Pacific Life Insurance, and Mr. McColl, of Nanaimo. Bun Life of Canada. Mr McIntyre, acting secretary, introduced the matter of the congress which will meet in Vancouver early in 1930 having a day's sitting in Victoria. It will be decided later. Present at the luncheon were guests in addition to Mr. Cannell were Mr. Wilfred W. Carlyle, superintendent of Mutual Life

Insurance agencies, with headquarters at Montreal, Mr. Bourdois, of the Mutual Life (Montreal), while Mr. Jackson, of the Columbia Life, Insurance Insurance company to join the association, was also introduced.

ROTARIANS TO INSPECT B.A. PAINT PLANT

Thursday's Luncheon of Club to Be Held at Belleville Street Works—Gyro Show in October

REV. GEO. PRINGLE AT KIWANIS CLUB

CLUB CALENDAR

MONDAY—Gyro Club, Chamber of Commerce Cafe, luncheon, 12:10 p.m.

MONDAY—Kuntuks Club, swimming group, Crystal Garden, 7 p.m.

TUESDAY—Kiwanis Club, Empress Hotel ballroom, luncheon, 12:10 p.m.

THURSDAY — Rotary Club, B.A. Paint Company's plant on Belleville Street, luncheon, 12:10 p.m.

FRIDAY—Usadians Club, Dominion Hotel dining-room, luncheon, 12:45 p.m.

Victoria Rotarians will hold their weekly luncheon next Thursday, at 12:10 p.m., at the plant of the B.A. Paint Company, on Belleville Street. The meeting will take the form of a tour luncheon, following which the processes will be shown over the establishment by Rotarians J. Carl Strobert and Fredrick.

A new Rotary Club has been organized at Revelstoke, and will hold its charter meeting before the end of September The charter meeting of new Rotary organization in Wallace, Idaho, took place last night.

Rev. George C. P. Pringle, B.A., pastor of Centennial United Church, will address the Kiwanis Club on Tuesday, at noon, in the Empress Hotel ballroom, on the subject, "Some Personal Stories of Service on the West Coast." Mr. Pringle spent ten years in the Klondike, was for three years a padre overseas, and for the past nine years has worked among the logging camps on the Coast. The Kiwanis orchestra will render selections.

ACTIVITIES

The speaker at tomorrow's luncheon of the Gyro Club in the Chamber of Commerce Cafe will be Comte Jean de Sumaniet. On Friday, September 20, the Vancouver Gyros will hold a party in honor of their retiring officers, and on September 30, the new officials of the club will be installed in office. To both of these events Victoria Gyros are cordially invited to attend.

Plans for the big Gyro show "Keep 'Em Smiling" are completed. The production will be given on Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights, October 3, 4 and 5, at the Royal Victoria Theatre. The show is one of the biggest musical comedies of the current year. Capacity houses are expected at all performances. Rehearsals will commence tomorrow evening

The swimming group of the Kuntuks Club will meet tomorrow night, at 7 o'clock, at the Crystal Garden.

There will be no meetings of the Round Table or Kinsmen Club this week.

Minister and Deputy Will Inspect Mines

Hon. W. A McKenzie, Minister of Mines, accompanied by Mr. Robert Dunn, deputy minister of the department, left yesterday afternoon for the Mainland, en route to the interior of the province on an inspection of some of the mining centres there. They will go by way of the Cariboo Road, and into the mining sections along the C.N.R. in the vicinity of Smithers and elsewhere.

The minister feels that it is a favorable time to make the trip and inspect some of the outstanding developments going on. At the same time he will give attention to the requirements of the various camps in the line of roads and trails.

The visit will not occupy more than about ten days. It is expected

Drug Stores Propose Action On Wage Appeal

No decision has been reached by the drug clerks of the province with respect to the taking of an appeal from the decision of the Male Minimum Wage Board, declaring the application for consideration of their claim against the employers being outside the jurisdiction of the board.

Mr. H. W. Davey, who appeared as counsel for the employees, expects to have some word of a definite kind early in the week as to whether the point shall be taken to the courts for decision, upon the right of the Minimum Wage Board to arrive at the conclusion it did of

Mr. T. A. Edison Keeps at Work in Invalid's Chair

WEST ORANGE, N.J., Sept. 14.—From a convalescent's chair, Mr. Thomas A. Edison today was again directing his laboratory experiments to produce artificial rubber.

The eighty-three-year-old inventor, for the first time since stricken ill a month ago with pneumonia, was permitted to sit up an entire day. Declaring that while physically a convalescent he would not be a mental one, he called for the report on the progress of his rubber experiment, some details of which had been carried on by his subordinates during his illness.

Mr. Charles Edison, his son, said the inventor had recovered from his illness, and it was now merely a case of gaining his strength.

BOYS DETECT MYSTERY MAN AND GET $20

Charles Brown and Kenneth Rickman Form Partnership to Find "Mr. Majestic"—Plan Succeeds

DOUGLAS STREET IS SCENE OF CAPTURE

Two Victoria boys formed their first partnership on Saturday and have been with the fixed intention of accosting every man dressed in grey. Their partnership proved entirely successful, for at 5.30 o'clock Saturday afternoon they found a man on Douglas Street, who showed more than the usual interest in their salutation "Are you Mr. Majestic?" Of course, they had their copies of the Majestic Radio folder in their possession and soon they were on their way home with a crisp new ten-dollar bill apiece The boys were Charles Brown, of Ralph Street, and Kenneth Rickman of Kent Road, Fernwood.

THE CAPTURE

On Friday and Saturday afternoon Mr. Majestic, "The Mystery Man," had been strolling around the business section and had seen any number of men dressed in grey suits, accosted by ardent hunters. The two boys who caught him on Saturday had traversed every street that he had covered, from the Hudson's Bay Company store to the Postoffice, and from Government Street to Blanshard Street. A mile-trip before his capture on Douglas Street a man had looked at Mr. Majestic with keen scrutiny, and within twenty feet of the spot the boys stopped him and collected the $20.

WILL WALK ON MONDAY

Continuing the campaign being conducted by Kent's and Sommers, the two Majestic Radio dealers in Victoria, Mr. Majestic, "The Mystery Man," will again be downtown between the hours of 2 and 5 o'clock with a $10 bill to give away, and if he is not caught on Monday $10 will be added each day until he is found. The campaign is to continue for the next two weeks, finishing with a grand award of a Majestic Radio for the final two days.

Arion Club Will Open Season December 10

The Arion Club announces its decision to hold its first concert of the season on December 10, at the Royal Victoria Theatre. Details of the programme are not yet worked out, but negotiations have already been entered into with some artists of international reputation with a view to having their assistance to supplement the club members. The choir will give two recitals this season, as usual, and are already beginning rehearsals.

BIG REFINERY FIRE

LINDEN, N.J., Sept. 14.—Damage estimated at $1,000,000 was caused tonight by a fire which swept the Standard Oil Co., of New Jersey, Bay Way Refinery and the Swan Finch Oil Co. Refinery on Staten Sound. The fire was started by a burning oil barge, which slipped its mooring and drifted near the refineries.

CONVICTS KILLED

QUINCY, Cal., Sept. 14.—Three convicts were killed and three others seriously injured, one probably fatally, in an explosion of gas given off by burning dynamite in a high-way tunnel, which they were constructing near Paxton, Plumas County Six other convicts working in another section of the tunnel escaped. All of the convicts were from the San Quentin Prison.

Fall Coats
Are Lavishly Furred

SOFT, luxurious materials and a lavish employment of furs are outstanding features of the new coats for Fall. Broadcloths in new Autumn colors. Arlette Casa-Granda, Honora and Braganca are among the smartest of the new materials. Furs include sable, mole, lynx, badger, muskrat, jeanette, French beaver and mink, dyed opossum or muskrat. Styles now on display are typical of the smartest effects to be shown this season—thus there is every advantage to be gained by early selection.

The Modern Mother
gets her oldest wish—

Progressive laundries give her leisure for the business of making a home

THE WISE WIFE—the modern mother—has found a plan that leaves her free for the business of making a home.

The new-fashioned washday has banished old-fashioned washday. She knows that not only does this drudgery rob her of precious time, but the back-breaking work takes an added toll, the one thing she must not surrender—Youth.

For this is the day when every woman must stay young in mind and manner, regardless of the story the calendar tells.

Washday is a nuisance no longer necessary. It leaves nothing to show for frenzied hours—nothing but the prospect of another washday next week.

But millions of women whose problems are very much like yours, have found freedom by turning to the modern power laundry.

Ask about the laundry service that exactly meets your needs. And begin at once to profit by this day of leisure.

DIATOMITE EARTH MINE AT QUESNEL SOLD BY LOCAL OWNER

American Interests With Ample Capital Secure Property

A transaction of importance in connection with this province has been put through, under which the Diatomite Earth Mine at Quesnel has been sold by Mr. A. W. Elliott, of this city, to a group of American financiers. The deal was put through by Mr. R. A. Foster, also of this city, who says it is quite possible that a factory will be built at Quesnel before July of next year. The purchase price runs into six figures.

The company, he explained, is incorporated with a capital of $15,000,000. Among the uses to which the product will be put is that of insulated wall board, plaster, etc. The payroll, he says, may number some 500 persons.

Delegates Have Lively Times at Typo Convention

SEATTLE, Sept. 14.—Interpreted as a move toward organization of a labor party, a resolution was introduced here last night at the convention of the International Typographical Union urging the organization to "sever all affiliations with all political parties of the exploiting class which are constantly encroaching upon the rights of workers." The resolution was voted down.

William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, came in for censure for participating in Collier's Labor Hour radio programme, sponsored by the Crowell Publications, which delegates declared had "looked out" the union.

The delegates asked that a committee be appointed to consider the advisability of moving the international offices from Indianapolis to Washington, D.C., and called upon Governor C. C. Young of California to see that "justice is done" in the case of Thomas J. Mooney, who is serving a sentence in prison as the result of a labor war several years ago.

How Little It Costs to Own a Glorious Grand Piano

Fletcher Bros. make the most startling piano announcement of a decade . . . an offer that every music lover should accept without hesitation.

YOU have always wanted a grand piano for your living-room . . . but if you have had to forego this pleasure because of the size and cost of such an instrument . . . we now assure you that these difficulties no longer exist. After searching the piano markets of the world for a grand piano of small size, perfect quality and moderate price, we have chosen the Brambach Baby Grand as the one instrument which fulfills every requirement. It is the world's most sensational achievement in pianoforte building.

Occupying no more space in your living-room than an ordinary upright piano, yet with the true tone-quality of an expensive grand, and with the delightful keyboard action which is distinctly a grand piano characteristic, there is nothing left to consider but price.

At $875 the Brambach Baby Grand is the most amazing piano value ever offered in Canada. Only vast manufacturing resources makes such value possible . . . and the makers of the Brambach are the world's largest manufacturers of grand pianos. We are popularizing this splendid instrument in Victoria by offering the following exceedingly generous terms.

Evening Fabrics Gleam

FABRICS that glisten and gleam form the most alluring of the new season formal gowns and wraps. White and off white silks there are, and brilliant colors, but dark silks and velvets with high lights breaking from their surfaces are the model the figure are among fashion's kindest gifts to fair women.

Stylists remain faithful to lure of black for evening gowns and it is repeatedly juxtaposed against the many new shades launched this season. Not only is it considered a color always good, but it is deemed one of the smartest.

One of the first evidences of the floor length skirt Paris introduced in the recent opening is like gown illustrated, where black transparent rayon velvet is manipulated into a model that is statuesque and stately softly but tightly does the fabric mould the figure, suggesting the normal waistline by means of shirring which crafties the velvet above the hips

Ecru lace forming side drapes lengthens the skirt until it sweeps the floor at the sides. This is one of the most handsome types of avening dress representative of Autumn, 1929.

Earrings, necklace and bracelet worn with this gown add a hint of the Spanish.

Evening capes and wraps are conforming somewhat to the sweeping lines of gowns with which they are to be worn. The shortened wrap is the early Autumn choice and is created in transparent velvet, to a large extent. This model of honey-colored rayon velvet, while not long, has a decided tendency in the position of the four tiers or ruffles. It is collared in white fox.

Pretty Wedding Takes Place at United Church

At the First United Church on Wednesday evening, September 11, the wedding of Williamina (Minnie), second daughter of Mr. W. J. Williamson, of Tyndal Avenue, Gordon Head, and the late Mrs. Williamson, to Mr. Normand Edward Fargrani of this city, youngest son of Mr. George A. Sargrani, of Birmingham, England, and the late Mrs. Sargrani, took place in the presence of a large number of friends of both parties. Rev. Bruce Gray performed the ceremony. Given in marriage by her father, the bride was handsomely gowned in ivory satin and lace, the bodice being formed in long tight-fitting style with lace yoke and long sleeves and full lace skirt falling to the ankles at the back. The wedding veil of heavy embroidered silk net was worn cap shape and held in place with a circlet of orange blossoms, one strand reaching from ear to ear under her chin. She carried a shower bouquet of white asters and white heather

Miss Alexina (Bee) Williamson, sister of the bride acted as bridesmaid and wore a frock of yellow georgette and rubber hat to match and carried a bouquet of mauve sunset asters and yellow chrysanthemums.

The flower girl was little Miss Ruth Veitch, who wore a frock of turquoise blue taffeta and carried a basket of pink and mauve sweet peas

The groom was supported by Mr George Williamson, of Westport, the brother of the bride. The ushers were Messrs. Bud Hocking and Jessie Hume

Mr Gurney presided at the organ and during the signing of the register Miss Marjorie Watson sang "Love's Coronation"

Following the service a reception was held at the home of the bride's father, at Gordon Head where the bridal couple were assisted in receiving by the bride's aunt, Mrs J W Mowat, who wore a gown of navy blue crepe back satin with hat to match and a corsage of pink roses, and by Miss A. R. Williamson, sister of the bride who was dressed in printed georgette with hat to match and a corsage of mauve and yellow chrysanthemums.

Mr and Mrs Sargrani left later on a motor trip on Vancouver Island and on their return, will make their home on Avebury Avenue For traveling the bride wore a smart tailored suit of navy felt hat and black fox fur Among the many handsome wedding gifts was a mantel clock from the staff of the Bank of Nova Scotia, of which the groom is a member.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Taylor of Westport, Ore and Miss Vivian Macaulay, of Vancouver.

VICTORIA GIRLS FIND LUCRATIVE BUSINESS

In these days when the business and the professions are being so closely watched by women in search of lucrative occupation, it requires imagination and initiative to find some still unexploited field. Miss Ann Sherwood, of 2240 Quadra Street, has shown more than average perspicuity in capitalizing one of the oldest domestic occupations viz. the medium of dancing.

The idea came to Miss Sherwood quite suddenly one day as the result of the comment of an admiring girl friend to whom she exhibited a pair of exceptionally neatly mended silk hose. The reported 'ladder,' in fact, was no longer visible under a close examination. The friend's enthusiasm offered a suggestion, here, possibly, was a business which she might be able to work up in her leisure time at home. While she was still thinking out the matter, her acquaintances, for some of whom she had "mended runs" with mystifying skill, were doing some unconscious and unsolicited advertising by their enthusiasm, so that when the eventual decided to make the thing a business, the work came to her fairly almost automatically. Her business has grown steadily since then, so that during the past year she has found it advisable to open city depots at Mme Watts' the Gresham Stocking Shop, Carlton's and Rivoy and Messrs. David Spencer, Limited. Da. the convenience of her customers who wish to leave their stockings for repair. And she has also taken a partner, Mrs. Preece, with whose assistance she is able to handle about four hundred stockings a month. Her booth at the Fall Fair was always surrounded.

This new industry has proved a boon to the women of moderate income who feel the purchase of new silk hose as a great but necessary extravagance. No longer is it necessary to discard a stocking just because it has laddered, when the artists can be made as good as new for the price of a few cents.

Victoria Girls' Band Will Give Dances in City

Officers of the Victoria Girls' Band, which is believed to be the only girls' band in Canada, were appointed at a meeting held at Messrs. Fletcher Bros. music store when the band was placed under the leadership of Mr. Arthur J. Hodgkins, who conducted the boys' band tour of last year, and whose intention it is to take the girls on a tour

Good progress is being made by all the members of the band. The organization will hold monthly dances, the first of which will take place October 2. The object of the dances is to provide funds for the incidental expenses in connection with the band and for uniforms and it is hoped the public will give the girls its loyal support

Any woman who has been married more than a couple of years knows that there are two sides to every question—the right side and her husband's.

Fashion Fancies

By Maria Belmont

The cream of the fashion world. You're not French? If you don't want it—but you are, and you do! A delicious chalet would be the gown of rich, heavy, cream satin. Matched above. Here the designer is serving you his best, garnished with frills and flounces. Several circle His style recipe is simple artistry and sure to please the most fastidious.

A low-cut panel set in V shape assures the model of a hemline long in the front as well as back, which provides a flavor of style wisdom. Pointed to interest are rows of fine tucks at one side of the fitted hip line. A surplice ending in a wing drapery at one side, held by a single black ivory buckle, adds distinction. Long white suede gloves worn wrinkled at the wrist is the smart touch that completes a claim to good taste.

Wedding Takes Place In Vernon

A wedding of interest to many Victoria friends of the bride and groom took place at All Saints Church, Vernon, on Wednesday, September 11, when in the presence of a large congregation, Rachel Drusilla, daughter of Mr. W. Crawley Ricardo, of Vernon, became the bride of Mr. John Herbert Edgell, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Edgell, Hampshire Road, Victoria. The ceremony was performed by Right Rev. A. J. Doull, Bishop of Kootenay, assisted by Rev. H. C. B. Gibson. Mr. A. Waring Gibbs played the bridal music. The bride, who is a niece of Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Pemberton, of "Mount Joy," Fort Bay Road, has been a frequent visitor to Victoria and has many friends here.

The church had been beautifully decorated with masses of Summer flowers in shades of pink, mauve and yellow, the chancel rail was bowed with asters, fern and hydrangeas, while chrysanthemums marked the guest pews.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride made a graceful and charming picture in her wedding gown of ivory satin and rare old Limerick lace, the long veil of the same lace falling to form a demi-train and held in place with a coronet of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of pink orchids.

Miss Hope Hodges, a cousin of the bride was maid of honor and Miss Sophie Langley, of Vancouver, bridesmaid, both attendants being gowned in delphinium blue net, the picture-like skirts being trimmed with velvet bows and ornaments of a deeper shade. Their hats were of mohair to match their frocks and they carried bouquets of gladioli in shades of apricot and yellow.

Mr. Dick Edgell, of Victoria, was best man and the ushers were Mr. Crawley Ricardo, brother of the bride; Mr. W. Osborne and Mr. Dick Locke, of Lavington. During the signing of the register the choir sang "O Perfect Peace."

The reception held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Ricardo, wearing a costume of black and white, had as its motif and a corsage bouquet of American Beauty roses and Mrs. Hodges, aunt of the bride, in a smart black ensemble trimmed with touches of white assisted the bride and groom to receive.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgell left later for their trip to California, the bride traveling in a navy blue crepe de Chine frock with unusual Oriental embroidery and a navy blue and white hat.

They will make their home in Vancouver.

Victorian Order Has Reports for Summer

The Victorian Order of Nurses experienced a busy July and August, the report presented at the meeting held by at the last meeting of the Order showing a total of 886 visits paid during the former month, of which number 541 were free, and during August a total of 818 visits, of which 497 were free. Two new cases were confinements. The figures showed the character of the cases attended to be as follows: Child welfare 182, maternities 20, including its tuberculous cases), prenatal, 43 and medical.

The staff, numbering four nurses, have done honor work during August.

Grateful thanks for gifts received were passed to the following: Mrs. Douglas Crease, for child's clothing; Miss Dawson, for clothing and illustrated papers; Mrs. Allan, bassinette bedding and old linen; Mr. Allan, Red Cross supplies; Mrs. Boldero, illustrated papers; Mrs. Adams, clothes from Ready-to-Help Circle of King's Daughters.

Talks to Women's Educational Group

At the opening meeting of the season, the Women's Educational Auxiliary of the United Church, heard from Mr. V. A. Denton an interesting outline of a year's training received by the auxiliary student at the Normal school. At the close of his remarks Mrs. Denton proposed an appreciative vote of thanks to the speaker, also to Mrs. Hoel, who sang very acceptably, accompanied by Mrs. Paul Greene. Tea brought the afternoon to a close Mrs. Watson, the president, was in the chair.

Your Problem And How to Solve It

Now I'm going to make what may sound like some surprising statements. I'm going to say that the answer, the solution, to your problem already exists and that I know it.

Yes, the chances are sometimes 5o one that I already know the solution to your problem before you've even told it to me. Dear three thousand years ago there was a man who said, "There is nothing new under the sun." He was right. A unique, arousing problem that is new to you is old to someone else. Many other people have already solved it in their hours of need, and from their wide experience in many years and many lands he

It has been my pleasure and privilege to have been able to help many men and women the world around to solve their problems and to get started toward the health, happiness and prosperity they desired. I want to help you, too, if you have a problem that is troubling you. Perhaps their experience and mine is the answer. And by using a wealth of widely-attained, scientific material which are constantly contributed with my personal observations, I have developed a body professional life, I am able to give them the results they are seeking.

I take a personal interest in you. I will see by mailing you how to apply properly this remarkable new science which lowers the diseases of the mind, body and of the Soul through the Great Subconscious Nervous System.

No matter who you are, or what your race or other conditions, if you are not satisfied with what life has brought you, I may help you. All I ask is the opportunity to prove it to you. It costs you nothing to take me or do this. Act right now.

Dramalogue Season Will Open at End Of Month

The tenth, dramalogue season will open at the Empress Hotel on September 30. The B.C. Dramatic School of Speech, under the presidency of Miss Kathleen Agnew, have placed the management in the hands of Major Bullock-Webster, who has arranged with Mr. H. J. Wilson for the dramalogues to be given in the ballroom of the hotel this year. Mrs H R. Beaven, chairman of the advisory committee, will again act as hostess. A strong membership committee, under the chairmanship of Mrs. C. E Wilson, is being formed. Mr. J. Walton, who has returned to the city from a holiday in Europe has again kindly consented to make himself responsible for the reservation of seats, regulation of temperature and the general comfort of the members Mr. J. H. Delves and Miss Ethel B. Bale will be in charge of the ticket disposition at the doors, which owing to the present crop right laws must be rigidly enforced. Non-members cannot be admitted even if friends of a member. The dramalogue will be private readings, addresses and discussions, given gratuitously by the supporting members of the B.C.D.S. only, admission cannot be gained by payment.

At the opening dramalogue a discussion of the play will be led by Rev. J. K. Unsworth and Mrs. J. G. Cameron. Many favorites with dramalogue audiences have consented to take parts again this year. Among these will be Mrs. Cudemore, Mrs. C. P. Hill, Captain Thorpe-Double, Miss Agnew, Comte and Comtesse Jean de Suzannet, Captain William Coventry, Mrs. Charles E. Wilson, Major Cuthbert Holmes, Miss Dorothy Crimp, Miss Margot Bullock-Webster, Major J. A. P. Crompton and Mr. Percy Crump.

Victoria Woman Is Author of Verses

Under the title of "Dawnlight and Evensong," a very charming little collection of poems by Annie Clarke, who has lived in Victoria for the past forty years, has been brought out by the Hull Printing Company at Winnipeg. Characterized for the most part by a mystical devotional spirit, the verses are also of real lyrical beauty and delicacy, refinement, and beauty of poetic fancy and expression which in some instances is reminiscent of Christina Rossetti. Take for example, is "The Child" Other poems of devotional character, inspired by Biblical incidents are "The Man of Timeria," "O Gathered Lily," Art Thou Afraid," "Galilee," "The Hope of His Coming," "Ecce Homo," "That Night," "For Love of Thee," and others. Although in the same spirit, it is continuance of the idea rather than retrospect that inspires such verses as "When He Comes" and, as the very last poem in the book, "Thy Thoughts."

Two verses of preface on the flyleaf testify to the spirit of service in which the collection is published, and it is noted, also, that by special request a number of poems from "Light Amid the Shadows" are included in the book.

CHAPTER XXIV

As Norse spoke, he slammed open a drawer and tossed an automatic into his pocket. With another gesture, he caught up his hat and pushed me before him to the door.

Infected by his excitement, I sprang on in front of him, and could hear him call back orders to someone as he followed me down the stairs.

"Your car," he shouted and even before we had leaped in, "Make better than your best speed," he said to the man. "Break every rule I'm responsible. Greyhouse, of course."

As the car shot from the curb I had a glimpse of police officers running down the steps of the building and, before we had taken the first turn, I could hear the horns of several machines behind us.

Norse sat forward in his seat, his face like stone. Again and again I attempted a question above the almost constant shriek of our motor horn, but he shook his head. And, indeed, it was hardly the time for conversation—around corners, past angry policemen, through traffic-crowded streets—that we escaped death that day still remains a mystery, that we did not kill someone else an even greater miracle. Certainly our chauffeur proved himself.

On through less crowded streets, people scattering in front of us.

"Let her out!" cried Norse. I remember thinking that his will had become the driving power that seemed to cut the way through obstacles, lifting us on, goading us on.

Out we flashed at last on the lower reaches of the highway that led up to the plateau. And there was nothing in front.

"Let's see what you can do," he cealed, as if we were at the start of our race. "Every ounce in her, every drop of speed!" And the car answered with a bound forward.

On—up—the hill melted before us. There leaped into view in the near distance the trees and walls of Greyhouse. "Then, as we neared the gates, "Now slow—slow down to normal." And for the first time he looked back. "We've outdriven them," he said, "but we can't wait; we must take our chance."

A man suddenly emerged from the hedge by the roadside. It was Roose.

"Watch this point," said Norse to him, "then follow with the rest." And I heard him mutter something about orders he had failed to give We were already on the driveway. Once again I essayed a question.

"You'll know soon enough," he returned, and to the man: "Here, reach over your gun. Now," he said, handing it to me, "you may have to use it first." And, as we came broadside to the doorway, I say that he had drawn his own.

That for an instant, tense, cold with anxiety as to the reason for which I had but a confused notion, we stood facing the door. Norse's hand was on the bell. Somewhere in the house I could hear its far-off summons, and then footsteps inside.

The door swung back, revealing the hall apparently empty; but whoever had opened it did not immediately appear. I was on the point of entering, when Norse pushed in front. We were hardly and the same instant, the door slammed shut and a figure leaped at us—to be stopped, nailed rather, on the point of Norse's automatic.

It was Hasta—smooth-shaven, swarthy, lithe—Hasta, revitalized as the embodied shadow of Greyhouse, unaccountably appearing as if from nowhere, snake-like and deadly. I gazed at him, thunderstruck.

But there was in this moment, at least, one apparent chance—his appearance had vanished. The flame of what he intended faded in his eyes and left them staring. His upper teeth showed. It was the face of a bewildered devil.

"Good!" said Norse coldly, "we meet again. It's hands up, I fancy."

With a slow, numb movement the man obeyed.

"I hope," continued the other in a singularly dry voice, "that you'll be careful now—that you won't grow absent-minded and forget who I am." And, with a sudden lash of tone: "Speak out! Where are your master and Miss Graham?"

"Upstairs," mumbled Hasta.

Reaching up, though without shifting his glance, Norse disentangled a strap from the butler's fingers that controlled a small leather-covered knob, and immediately afterward removed a revolver from the man's pocket. Both of these he tossed aside.

"Now, step in front of us and show the way, and keep those hands up!"

The fellow moved, apparently stupefied, but, at the first moment of passing in front, I saw his eyes shift; his hand fell in a sharp, lightning blow to Norse's wrist, the automatic reached for the floor, and he sprang toward the library.

It was incredible daring, vain as it was reckless. I fired. The shot roared in the silence of the hall and Hasta reeled, stretching out both his hands, but still he sprang. He clutched at the knob of the door. There followed the report of Norse's gun, fired almost, it seemed to me, before he had recovered it.

Reeling forward, supported an instant by the panels, Hasta crumpled down with a long, raging cry. Before we reached him, a stream of blood, like an ugly ribbon, had begun to wind from his mouth.

Norse pushed him aside with his foot. "That took nerve," he said. "But, at least, he showed us the way. No, leave him—we haven't time." He put his hand to the knob. "And keep alert now, we've got more than that ahead."

He opened the first door and bent his head, listening, then opened the second; but, upon entering, a glance sufficed to show that the room was empty. And, for the first time since leaving his office, the energy that had seemed to burn white in him appeared to fail. It was, however, despair that I saw, rather than surprise, in the blank look he cast about him.

"They're upstairs after all," I ventured, breathless. And, as he began to pace back and forth: "In heaven's name, let's do something—we can't stop here. But perhaps the danger's over, now that Hasta—"

He seemed to pay no attention, but at last: "They're not upstairs, Lucian, from the very first. I've believed in a hidden space connected with this room. It must exist. No other idea is tenable; nothing else explains the facts. But I don't know where it is. I've searched before and here. I've taken measurements—useless. I'm beaten." He clenched his hands. "But, in spite of that, there is a secret room, and, unless we find it—"

Drops of sweat stood on his forehead. Proven by his manner, I could only stare at him, speechless. "I had a theory once," he added, wrong, evidently—" And slowly, like one without expectation, he moved toward that angle of the room that held the narrow door. "A theory," he continued, "that—"

I heard a subdued exclamation. He stood looking down with a fixed intentness, and, upon joining him, its cause was immediately apparent. At our feet lay the carved face of the Medusa, but what I saw was new. The sash had sunk to about an inch below the level, and the end of a cleat, obviously dropped by chance, projected down between it and the next flagstone.

It was a cloak I remembered, Eleanor had worn it at our last meeting.

Norse pressed with his foot, and the stone yielded, sinking another couple of inches. Stooping over, his fingers on the carving, he pushed feverishly, here and there. Almost at once the block slipped to one side beneath the floor and disclosed a well, pierced in the corner foundation of the house Herd and lined with a steel ladder—a black tube. But, as we stood looking down, I caught in its depths what seemed a glimmer of light. There rose a smell of earth from the darkness, but not a sound, no whisper to break the silence. We might have been looking into the pit of Death.

Our gladness met, reflecting the same dread. "If we're not too late," muttered Norse, one foot on the ladder—that's the question. And I'm afraid——"

How I Lost 28 Lbs. In a Safe, Easy Way

Read how one woman lost 28 lbs. of fat, without diet, without dangerous drugs or exercises.

"I take a daily dose of Kruschen, and I have lost two inches round the waist and hips and 28 lbs. since last Summer. I feel very well on it and people tell me I look very fit. I am 5 ft. 4 in in height, 40 years old, and come of a stout family."—Miss E. L.

Don't go lumbering about with a burden of unhealthy, excess fat—you can get rid of it easily if you get the Kruschen habit.

Kruschen Salts provides the easiest, safest and surest way to lose fat that you can possibly desire. By its purifying your blood of harmful acids, helping the liver, kidneys and bowels to throw off waste material, they remove in a natural way the fatty deposits which poisonous waste matter has produced. Not only do you lose pounds in weight, but you lose years in appearance. Little by little the ugly fat disappears—slowly, yes—but surely—and you soon feel wonderfully healthy, vital and energetic—more so than ever before in your life. (Advt.)

Has High Praise for Exhibition at Duncan

Minister of Agriculture Pays Tribute to Excellent Quality of Exhibits—Attendance Is Considerably Greater Than in Recent Years

DUNCAN, Sept. 14.—Hon. W. Atkinson, Minister of Agriculture for the Province, paid a high tribute to the excellent exhibition when he formally opened the fall fair.

Additional awards were:

SCOUTS RALLY

Relay race—1, Beaver Patrol; 2, Lion Patrol.

Tug-of-war — 1, Dunean 1; 2, Quamichan.

Tug-of-war knot tying—1, Eagle Patrol; 2, Wolf Patrol.

INDIVIDUAL EVENTS

Making a fire without matches by any of the methods mentioned in the "Hand Book"—1, Patrol Leader Morford.

Lariat spinning and throwing—1, Troop Leader McInnes.

CHOPPING CHAMPIONSHIP

J. W "Bill" Auchinachie, of Duncan, won the chopping championship of British Columbia and a prize of $100 with a belt when he cut through a square log, twelve by twelve in one minute twenty-six and four-fifth seconds. H. Robinson, last year's winner and winner at the present provincial exhibition at New Westminster, came second, taking twenty-four seconds longer than the winner. Time most certainly meant money when, in the sawing competition, E. E. Williams took first place, beating the time of H. Robinson, who took the second prize money, by the small margin of two-fifths of a second.

Excellent arrangements featured the carrying out of the loggers' sports. They drew a strong field of competitors, which included the local lad, as well as stalwarts from Comox, Vancouver and other outside points. J. Downey and J. McQuinn, of Comox, were the feature men to carry off the prize money in the spicing competitions.

Mr. E. W. Neel, president of the Agricultural Society, and Mr. C. Stone headed the committee in charge while they had most active support in J. Mainland, L. T. Tyser, C. Gordon and T. Horsfall. The following gives full details of the results of the logging sports:

LOGGERS' SPORTS

One-man eye splice—1, $50, J. Dysnie, Comox (time, 3 minutes 7 1-5 seconds; 2, $25, J. McQuinn, Comox (time 3 minutes 14 4-5 seconds).

Long splice—1, $50, M. Andrews and G. Hulbert, of Capilano Timber Company (time 4 minutes 42 2-5 seconds); 2, $20, J. McQuinn and J. Downey, of Comox (time, 6 minutes 1 3-5 seconds).

Sawing (men), 32-inch round—f, $75, S. E. Williams, Duncan (time, 2 minutes 6 4-5 seconds); 2, $35, H. Robinson, Duncan (time 2 minutes 7 1-5 seconds); 3, hand saw donated by Spears and Jackson, Limited of Vancouver, C. March, Lake Cowichan (time, 2 minutes 13 3-5 seconds).

Prize of winning saw, $15—Lee Herrow, of Duncan.

Sawing (ladies), 12 by 12 square—1, $25, Mrs. Watkinson (time, 1 minute 27 3-5 seconds); 2, $10, Miss M. Lauren (2 minutes).

Chopping, for championship of British Columbia, 12 by 12 square log—1, $100 and belt, J. W. Auchinachie, Duncan (time 1 minute 26 4-5 seconds; 2, $50, H. Robinson, Duncan (time, 1 minute 55 4-5 seconds); 3, donated by W. J. Heads of Vancouver, per McEwans Shoe Store, Duncan, one pair light cruiser boots, won by C. March, of Lake Cowichan (time, 3 minutes 46 4-5 seconds).

ADDITIONAL PLANE IS NOT AVAILABLE FOR SURVEY WORK

The request made by Mr. C. W. Crysdale, in charge of the joint survey of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway subsidy lands by the province and the two major railway companies of the Dominion, for another aeroplane to expedite the topographical survey of the Peace River Block is likely to have to be unfulfilled. This is due to the fact that extra aircraft is not available. The services of the plane supplied by the Royal Canadian Airways are supplied by the Dominion Government. The service is one that is being carried out as part of the Canadian topographical survey, which the Federal Government has started. The services of the Western Canada Airways plans is being borne jointly by the three parties to the survey. It is hoped that with the continuation of the present weather conditions the work may be finished without trouble by the airships engaged.

Health and Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK McCOY

HEARTBURN

Most people realize that what they call heartburn is not felt in the heart itself, but rather in the stomach. The upper part of the stomach is located slightly to the left of the body and presses almost directly against the heart.

When the stomach is filled with a fermenting mass of food or there is a large amount of acid present, there may be a burning feeling created in this upper portion of the stomach. Because of its location near the heart, this symptom is referred to as "heartburn."

The heart itself, is not very sensitive so far as sensation is concerned, and most of the pains which occur near the heart are in the stomach, diaphragm or lungs. Heartburn is then only a symptom of hyperacidity of the stomach, which in turn is caused by the following:

Eating too much food.

Wrong food combinations.

Eating when tired or worried.

Too many condiments and highly seasoned foods.

If you belch up air frequently just after eating a meal, this is always a sign that you have eaten too much. Try cutting down the amount of food at each meal to one-half of what you have been using. This may still be too much, and it may be necessary to further reduce the quantity.

Such bad combinations as starches with acids and meats with starches must be avoided if you wish to get rid of heartburn. Make your meals as simple as possible, eating from two to four articles of food at a meal. Most dinners consist of from fifteen to twenty separate articles of food. No human stomach can take care of such a combination of foods without distress. Heartburn itself, as well as the rest of the body, finally becomes worn out. Hyperacidity is the natural consequence from such injudicious living. The stomach makes more and more acid to try to chemically digest such mixtures, and thus an over-acid state exists in the stomach all but a few hours during the day and night.

Highly seasoned foods and condiments excite the flow of gastric juice, and thus more acids are thrown into the stomach when these stimulants are used, consequently more food is eaten than the body is naturally hungry for.

If you have been troubled with heartburn, make a note of the above points and change your bad habits of good ones before the heartburn leads to stomach ulcer or some heart disorder develops because of the gas pressure created from hyperacidity of the stomach.

FIRES WORK MUCH HAVOC

Loss Graphically Told in Group of Pictures of Outbreaks in Forests of Central Canada

PATROLS INCREASE THEIR EFFICIENCY

OTTAWA, Sept. 14.—The accompanying photographs taken by the Canadian Forestry Association show graphically the character of the forest fires raging in northwestern Ontario and Manitoba. Extreme drought developed hazards which were not shared by the rest of Ontario or by Quebec and the Maritimes. The forest services displayed great energy and courage in dealing with the situation and held the destruction within limits that would have been impossible with the less efficient organization of five years ago.

The Canadian Forestry Association points out that ninety-one per cent of forest fires are started by human agency, mostly through carelessness, and that the public must look to its own conduct rather than expect miracles of the forest rangers and air patrols if it expects the timber resources of the country to be saved from calamity.

The enormous growth of tourist traffic in Canada, the extension of motor roads, the influx of prospectors, campers, fishermen, etc. have created a woods invasion that automatically adds to the fire peril. While the vast majority of the public have exhibited great care in protecting the forests this season, a minority of the careless still cause great destruction, especially when drought conditions turn the woods into a mass of tinder.

It is not generally appreciated that the forest protective services of Canada are today on a basis of efficiency comparable with any other protective agencies on the continent. Hundred of incipient fires have been promptly detected and suppressed and a degree of control exercised over the larger outbreaks which was not possible during similar experiences of the past.

FAMOUS ARCHITECT DIES

He received his knighthood in 1911.

INSTITUTES JOIN IN FALL FAIR

Cortez and Whaletown Stage Event —Child Collects $1,332 Thistle Tops

WHALETOWN, Sept. 14.—The Whaletown Women's Institute with the co-operation of the Cortez Island Institute, held a very successful Fall fair on August 24 at the Community Hall, Whaletown. Institute colors were used throughout in the color scheme. Mrs. Randle and Miss Noble being the judges.

There was a very good display of home cooking, canning, etc. The school children exhibited potatoes and cabbage grown from certified seed supplied by the Institute.

Many prizes were given, and distributed quite evenly among both Institutes. A prize was also given to the child collecting the most thistle tops; 31,332 heads were collected by the winner.

Teas were served during the afternoon, and later in the evening a dance was enjoyed by a good attendance.

The regular meeting was held at the home of Mrs. E. Brene, Gouge Harbor September 3, where she and Mrs. Houghton-Brown were joint hostesses. The Cortez Island Institute members were also guests.

Mrs. Houghton-Brown, in the absence of Mrs. Ballantyne, read a very interesting paper on "Home Handicrafts."

GYROS TO SPONSOR ROLLICKING SHOW

"Keep 'Em Smiling," Which Comes to Royal Victoria in October Is Wonderful Success

The bright, snappy musical comedy, "Keep 'Em Smiling," which the Victoria Gyro Club is sponsoring here on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, October 3, 4 and 5, at the Royal Victoria Theatre, lives up to its name every minute from the raise of the curtain until the final moment of the production.

"Keep 'Em Smiling" has been played with hilarious success in Chicago for ten weeks and in many other Eastern centres for four weeks. It was a wonderful success in Regina, Edmonton and Calgary recently. The press notices of the show were highly flattering. Adjectives in superlative degree were employed for the beautiful costumes and scenery used in the performances.

The play has a delightful story, and there is a continuous laugh from beginning to end. Some of the latest song hits are introduced and go over big. But the girls—well, the show must just be seen to be truly appreciated. See it at the Royal Victoria early next month. "Keep 'Em Smiling."

European Scientist to Speak on Astrology

Those interested in the subject of Astrology will have an opportunity to hear it discussed from an historical point of view at a public meeting to be held Tuesday evening at Victoria College. At this meeting Professor A. Pannekoek, of Amsterdam, Holland, will address members of the Astronomical Society and the general public on the subject, "Astrology: Its Influence on the Development of Astronomy."

Professor Pannekoek is an astronomer with an international reputation who has been conducting special investigations at the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory in Victoria this Summer. His wide knowledge of astronomy, ancient and modern, makes him specially well fitted to discuss the older science of astrology.

This will be the first time that a Victoria audience has had an opportunity to hear the subject of astrology presented by a speaker of Professor Pannekoek's authority, and his address should be of particular interest to those who wish to know the attitude taken by modern astronomers toward premeiday exponents of astrology.

Plays and Players

"SYNCOPATION" IS BIG EXTRAVAGANZA

Dominion Features Brilliant, Tuneful, Sparkling, Yet Moving Romance

"Syncopation," first of RKO's radio pictures, is a melodious, tuneful, sprightly, sparkling film music extravaganza and it plays Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday at the Dominion Theatre Here, if anywhere, the tired business man can go and forget dull cares sprightly tunes, sparkling repartee, golden voices and glittering romance.

But that's not all. "Syncopation" has a very real and very moving romance. It is the tale of a pair of wedded hoofers, the team of Sloane and Darrel, played by Barbara Bennett and Bobby Watson, who have been playing the small time. Fame a nd fortune unexpectedly smile upon them and with wealth and white lights come those differences that break hearts and burst wedlocks. Villainy stalks the wife and sorrow visits the pallbeset heart-broken husband when wife takes her departure, but it all comes out in the wash with Sloane and Darrel eventually in each other's arms.

Much of the action takes place in a cabaret where song and dance hold forth and Fred Waring's famed Pennsylvanians jam forth nine smashing melodious numbers. The haunting melodies sung by Mercon Downey as a song plugger are going to be hard to forget.

AMUSEMENTS

Capitol—Jack Mulhall in "Dark Streets."

Columbia—"Coney Island," starring Lois Wilson.

Dominion—Barbara Bennett in "Syncopation."

ON THE STAGE

Colleseum—The Mildred Page Players offer "The Boss of the Ranch."

Playhouse—Reginald Hincks Co. presents "Maid of the Mountains."

"Q Ships" Film Shown on Screen at Coliseum Tomorrow

On May 4, 1917, a flotilla of American destroyers slipped quietly into Queenstown harbor to aid in the protection of Allied shipping. The boats then tried a new game—seeking out only isolated vessels. This was the U-boat commanders last desperate chance.

"Q" Ships," showing at the Coliseum Theatre, is the authentic story exciting, perilous, thrilling, produced with the official sanction and cooperation of the Admiralty with official war scenes exhibited by permission of the British War Museum and endorsed by Admiral Earl Jellicoe, who lends his personal appearance to the picture.

GRIPPING STORY IN "CONEY ISLAND"

Tragedy and Comedy of Life at Gotham's Seaside Resort Told at Columbia

For color, action and highly dramatic situations few pictures that have come to the Columbia Theatre can surpass "Coney Island," which opens tomorrow. Ralph Ince, the director, has brought to the screen a gripping story of the joy and sorrows that beset the concessionaires, hucksters and funmakers of the world's greatest amusement park, Coney Island. Back behind all the funny mask of the clown, these people, whose business it is to entertain the public, have their tragedies. "Coney Island" holds up the mirror to this strata of life.

There is not a dull moment in "Coney Island" which tells the story of the love of a young roller coaster lassie for his pretty ticket seller, and his struggles to get enough money together to get out of the clutches of the financial baron of the amusement park.

In the meantime a young New York society man falls for the ticket girl and accepts work in the motor room of the roller coaster in order to win her. Complications arise through the interest of a cabaret dancer for this young man. She, however, helps quell a public scandal by the banishment of the baron, and the story ends happily for all concerned.

CAPITOL TO HAVE ALL TALKIE FILM

Exceptionally Entertaining Production to Be Given Monday—Three-Day Programme

The attraction to be shown at the Capitol on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday will be First National's super talking attraction, "Dark Streets," featuring Jack Mulhall and Lila Lee. The production is a very interesting one and exceptionally entertaining, and should prove to be quite a drawing card. The stars of "Twin Beds" are seen to better advantage in this attraction, and their dialogue is greatly improved. A good all-talking comedy entitled "Vital Subjects," has that famous musical comedy star, Charles Butterworth, in the leading comedian's role. The Paramount Sound News completes this bill which will be offered at the Capitol Theatre for the first three days of this week.

REGINALD HINCKS AT PLAYHOUSE

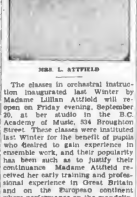
"Maid of the Mountains" Presented This Week by Talented Actor and His Players

Reginald Hincks, the ery-popular producer and actor at the Playhouse Theatre, this week is giving his patrons that gem of comic opera "Maid of the Mountains." All the wit and all the beautiful lyrics are presented through the medium of his well-balanced cast. The popularity of plays of this calibre is well proven by the capacity houses the Playhouse has enjoyed the last few weeks.

On the screen is "Chasing Through Europe." Getting an audience of persons with the calibre of Premier Mussolini in Rome is no easy matter. Several Fox officials attempted it and failed while the "Chasing Through Europe" company was being made abroad. They wanted a permit to fly over the city and shoot some air scenes. Finally, Nick Stuart, who plays the part of an American lad with a movie camera on a holiday and he would not take no experience dno trouble at all in securing the permit. Mussolini was even gracious enough to consent to being photographed in one of the sequences and kept his word, just as the Prince of Wales did in England.

TO RE-OPEN CLASSES

Orchestral Instruction Course Will Be Conducted by Madame Lillian Attfield



MRS. L. ATTFIELD

The classes in orchestral instruction inaugurated last Winter by Madame Lillian Attfield will re-open on Friday evening, September 20, at her studio in the Fine Arts Academy of Music, 534 Broughton Street. These classes were instituted last Winter for the benefit of pupils who desired to gain experience in ensemble work, and their popularity has been such as to justify their continuance. Madame Attfield received her early training and professional experience in Great Britain and on the European continent where performance on the mandolin, banjo and guitar has probably been brought to greater perfection than elsewhere.

The mandolin is undoubtedly the oldest of these instruments, having been in existence about 800 years, and has not changed greatly from the original mandola in use several centuries ago. Great musicians have written for it. Mozart introduced them in his opera, "Don Juen," and the great composer, Beethoven, wrote several duets and quartettes for the mandolin. In addition to a sonatina it was introduced into England in 1707 by Signor Gonli, an Italian musician.

Madame Attfield took up the study of this instrument as a very early age, under the well-known Italian musician, Signor Marragon, and in addition to her many instrumental successes in the leading musical centres of Europe had the distinction of receiving a special command to play before the Queen of Rumania.

A noteworthy feature in connection with the study of the fretted instruments which will be welcomed by many Victorians is that it is now possible to take grade examinations on the mandolin, banjo and guitar. Through the efforts of Madame Aitfield, arrangements have been made for a R.S.A. examiner to hold examinations in Victoria some time in October. These will be the first examinations of this nature to be held here. The examination tests are graded A, B and C. Madame Attfield will gladly furnish information to anyone interested in these R.M.O. diploma tests.

A Blonde Menace

The blonde menace in "Bulldog Drummond," Lilyan Tashman, has been selected by Paramount to do as much for their forthcoming production, "The Children," a translation of Edith Wharton's novel. She will play the role of Joyce Wheeler. Kay Francis will fill the part of Lady Wornch. Frederic March will have the leading male role.

To Leave for Missions

THE three sisters from the Convent of Grey Nuns of the Immaculate Conception, Pembroke, Ont., shown here, will shortly leave for China to work in six mission fields allotted to St. Francis Xavier Seminary, Scarboro Bluffs. They are (1) Sister Mary Anthony (McHugh); (2) Sister St. Oswald (McDonald); (3) Sister Mary Catherine (Doyle).

"Show Folk Stuff" to Be New Radio Entertainment

First Broadcast Takes Place on September 21 Through Columbia Network—Leading Stars to Take Part in Paramount Public Hour

(By MARTIN CODEL)

WASHINGTON, D.C., Sept 14.—A cycle of "Show Folk Stuff" not unlike that which has marked the birth of talking motion picture production, appears to be in prospect for the radio audience.

The stage and the talkies were natural sources to which the national radio networks could turn for radio talent. It was also natural that stage and motion picture producers should turn to radio as a medium of exploiting personalities and productions. Hence the recent resumption of the Radio-Keith Orpheum hour every Tuesday night on the nation-wide network of the National Broadcasting Company system, beginning Saturday evening, September 21.

Even the Fox and Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer union appears to be eager to find a national radio outlet for its talking picture and theatre chain. All sorts of rumors about purchasing broadcasting stations or mergers with radio interests are still in the air.

THEATRE LIFE

Stories of night club life, back stage life or of behind the movie lots, regarded by many critics as having been overworked in the talkies, and used so freely in the past for the obvious reason that they lend themselves to song quite easily, may next regale the radio audience. It is generally agreed that unless this type of broadcast is handled with unusual cleverness by the radio programme directors, the cycle of "Show Folk Stuff" will be the season's radio flop.

In any case stories of theatre folks are likely to be short lived as radio features, even though this is the day of dialogue on the radio. The reason is that they have outworn their usefulness. Better cues for introducing songs on the air, as in the pictures, must be found.

Show people, of course, will always be in demand as radio entertainers. But it will probably be they songs and wit that will keep them on the air and not the dramatisation of theatre life.

Radio programme directors, who are fast developing a technique of their own in their efforts to please the unseen and often inarticulate audience, have a perplexing problem on their hands in the task of properly utilizing stage and screen talent.

TECHNIQUE DIFFERS

The technique of the stage and of the motion picture studio differ from radio technique almost as greatly as do from each other the stars of the stage and the films often fail on the radio and they develop that peculiar quality known as "radio personality." A notable example of radio flop was the recent appearance of Al Jolson on a network for the purpose of plugging the songs in his latest picture.

Sponsors of the Radio-Keith-Orpheum hour of last Winter, staged usually in the performers' dressing rooms at various theatres throughout the country, admit that their programmes were not successful, and the radio people say it was due to the direction of stage people.

Paramount-Public has the best of its stars scheduled for its radio premiere two weeks hence. Not only will certain movie stars participate in song and dialogue, but portions of a highly successful stage play now in talking picture production will be re-enacted before the microphone. The play is Alfred Butler's "The Laughing Lady," in which the legitimate stage star, Jeanne Eagles, is taking the lead. The inaugural programme will be of diversified character and will be presented from studios in New York, Hollywood and several inland cities.

FROVES POPULAR

The persisting public curiosity about stars of the stage and films makes the producers confident that radio hours featuring them will succeed with the radio audience. When Gloria Swanson, the movie actress, sang in London last Friday in connection with her debut in sound pictures, the National Broadcasting Company regarded the occasion as sufficiently interesting to radio listeners to have the programme relayed by short waves from England and put on its network extending all the way from the Atlantic seaboard to Kansas City.

"The Silver King"

"The Silver King," the British film in which the former American film player Percy Marmont is seen, is a modernized version of Henry Arthur Jones' famous old play. The film was directed by T. Hayes Hunter, who is also responsible for "The Scarlet Pimpernel."

Leading Lady

Loretta Young, who has appeared in several First National Pictures, has been chosen leading lady for John Barrymore's next film, "The Man."

Chemainus Has Modern Hospital on Fine Site

Epidemic Brought Home Necessity of Hospital Thirty Years Ago—Institution Opened on May 8, 1900—Gradually Expanded Since

The residents of Chemainus may feel justly proud of their hospital, for it is easily one of the most up-to-date and best equipped hospitals to be found anywhere in a town the size of Chemainus.

It would indeed be difficult to find a more ideal site, as, standing in its own grounds, which are laid out with orchard and vegetable gardens on the one side and flower beds and lawns sloping down to grassy cliffs on the other, it overlooks Horseshoe Bay, the Stewart Channel and away across Thetis Island to the snowy ranges of the Olympics.

Up to 1899 Chemainus had had a resident doctor, but no hospital; then the Summer of 1899 brought an epidemic of typhoid and the residents awoke to the fact that, in a growing mill town such as theirs, a hospital was a necessity, and following a public meeting called on September 8, 1899, to consider ways and means of building a hospital, a committee was formed to raise subscriptions of $10 each.

In the meantime a cottage on the Island Highway was fitted up as a temporary hospital, a board of directors formed and a little later, a Woman's Auxiliary to the hospital.

Four lots were donated for the site of a hospital by the late Mr. Henry Croft and Dr. Robert Telford and building commenced immediately.

On May 8, 1900, the new hospital was publicly opened to receive patients, the building at that time consisting of one public ward, two private wards, bathroom, office, kitchen and quarters for doctor and nurses.

In September, 1901, two additional wards were added on the north side. July, 1903, found operating, sterilizing and X-ray rooms erected with equipment complete.

A great part of the roof of the main building was destroyed by fire on June 23, 1912, and in the course of repairing the roof was raised, thus giving more adequate space for the staff quarters.

In March, 1926, two isolation wards were added with bathrooms and rooms for the isolation nurses, case room and nursery, and all plumbing throughout the hospital renewed and modernized.

PRESENT ACCOMMODATION

Today the hospital can boast three private wards, one semi-private with two beds, one women's ward with three beds, one men's ward of eight beds, one isolation ward of five beds and two rooms of one bed each for isolation nurses, three bathrooms in addition, three bathrooms on upper floor, a most up-to-date operating room, supply and scrub-up room, X-ray room, case room and nursery, kitchen, diet kitchen and dining-room for staff, waiting room, office and dispensary where out patients are treated. On the upper floor are the nurses' quarters for five and a large sitting room from which there is a most wonderful view. Out in the grounds is a T.B. cottage of one bed screened in with wire and canvas.

In August, 1925, the training school, affiliated with the Vancouver General Hospital was dissolved. The staff now consists of a doctor, resident in the hospital grounds, five graduate nurses, a ward maid and three Chinamen, one of these, Chung, the cook, has served faithfully for seventeen years.

IS ALWAYS BUSY

The hospital is always busy, May of this year being the record month since the hospital was first opened, the hospital days of this month numbering 674 with 217 patients.

In 1928 the hospital days numbered 4,316 with an average of 13.52 patients per month. During the same year there were thirty births.

The Victoria Lumber and Manufacturing Company's employees in the mill contribute the sum of $1.50 per month towards the upkeep of the hospital, this entitling the men and his family to free treatment. The logging camp employees pay $1 per month, for which the man's treatment is free and his family receives treatment for half price.

The hospital has been fortunate in having always had a most zealous band of workers in the Women's Auxiliary. All linen, china and the hundred and one comforts that are so necessary to an institution of this sort are provided by these ladies.

CHEMAINUS HOSPITAL

GIVEN TO FUND FOR CATHEDRAL

TOTAL OF SEVENTY-THREE SUBSCRIPTIONS DURING WEEK MAKE $7,413

Bishop Encouraged by Response to Appeal—Amount Still Required This Month Is $18,775

Seventy-three subscribers, giving donations of $1 and upwards, contributed last week the sum of $7,413 to the fund for completing, free of debt, the nave of the new Christ Church Cathedral. The amount still required is $12,775.

The building committee hopes that additional gifts will be received this week, in order that, if at all possible, the full amount needed may be in hand before September 30, which is the date set for the consecration of the cathedral.

The honorary treasurer, Sir Richard Lake, will be faced with a number of large accounts for payment this week, and if enough money is available for the settlement of these bills, the bishop announced yesterday that the consecration service could be proceeded with.

It was evident now, he explained, that all the work to be done according to the terms of the contract would not be finished by September 30. Unless, therefore, the balance of the money needed was received at that time, it might still be necessary to stop the work immediately after the consecration. Further progress was also dependent, he stated, on the payment of all subscriptions promised to the building fund.

"I am greatly encouraged by the way in which support has been given in our time of need," the bishop stated yesterday. He concluded by saying, "I am confidently counting on the remainder being contributed by those who recognize the great value that the new cathedral will be to this community."

Power that says

"follow the leader"

to any car on the road

Outstanding among the many improvements in the new McLaughlin-Buick—improvements which combine with Buick's new low prices to make this car an unrivaled value—is the marked increase in power provided by the new McLaughlin-Buick valve-in-head engine.

This great new engine—representing the splendid climax of 26 years' concentration on one outstanding efficient type—is bigger, sturdier, more highly refined than ever before. It develops 98 horsepower in the 124 and 132-inch Series, and 80¼ horsepower in the 118-inch Series, thus assuring superabundant reserve for every motoring need.

This tremendous increase in power, together with innumerable refinements bearing on other phases of engine operation, not only endow the new McLaughlin-Buick with unrivaled acceleration, hill ability and speed, but impart marvelous new flexibility, and velvet smoothness at any pace. Yet so thoroughly expert is McLaughlin-Buick engineering that this additional performance is achieved without any increase in fuel consumption.

See the new McLaughlin-Buick today! Compare the beauty of its new Bodies by Fisher. Test getaway, speed, power on hills, smoothness, flexibility! Then you, too, will acclaim McLaughlin-Buick the world's greatest motor car value.

Highland Gathering at Banff, Alberta

By DONALD FRASER

"Leave the deer, leave the steer,
Leave nets and barges,
Come in your fighting gear
Broadswords and targis."

Scotland has long been famed for its unusual Highland gathering at Braemar. The event is usually made to coincide with the shooting season and the visit of Royalty to the Highlands. The proceedings are opened with a grand ball which assumes a nation-wide character and perhaps for splendor is not excelled on any other occasion, so far as numbers are concerned Banff may not compare with Braemar, but in almost every other respect is no mean competitor.

"Beautiful for situation, the joy of all the land," may well be applied to Banff, in fact, this description hardly does it justice. Five mountain peaks, which tower to the skies, give the visitor a view of majestic grandeur scarcely to be found in any other part of Canada. Two rivers, the Bow and the Spray, circle round the mountains, and are in plain sight at the hotel. Before the meeting of the waters, at a slight distance, the Bow gathers up all its energies apparently to annihilate or overwhelm the Spray. This culminates in a veritable Highland waterfall of great beauty. The Spray is vanquished, its name is taken away, and the Bow River goes on its way beautifying the landscape, and giving great charm to the golf links, which is one of the chief attractions to Banff during the season.

Between the hotel and the parapet there is a spacious open-air sulphur spring bath, which is greatly appreciated by many of the guests of the hotel. This bathing place reminds one of the pictures of the baths of ancient Rome when she was mistress of the then civilized world.

The close proximity of the mountains gives one the impression that the hotel and grounds lie in a basin so far as the hotel is concerned. It is built on quite an elevation. All descriptions of this wonderful building are inadequate; it must be seen and explored to apprehend even partly its magnificence. Fortunately, when descriptive powers fail, the camera comes to our aid. The hotel will comfortably accommodate about 1,500 guests. The concert was held in the large ballroom on Friday night, every seat occupied. After the singing "O, Canada," and the "National Anthem," Lieut.-Governor Bruce gave a stirring address, his voice being distinctly heard by the vast audience in all parts of the room. He seemed inspired by the occasion, enumerating many of the men of vision who by their efforts had brought about the wonderful transformation of a wilderness to the present spectacle of magnificence and culture. He specially mentioned the name of Mr. Murray Gibbon as the moving genius in staging similar functions of the C.P.R. in all parts of Canada. He stressed the fact that apart from the spectacular and amusement features, there was a deep-rooted sentiment which made for happiness and good citizenship, Mayor Anatomb and Mrs. Anatomb, Mr. Joseph Hunter and Mrs. Hunter had prominent seats at the concert.

The programme was all that could be desired, the Jacobite songs being greatly appreciated. The entertainment closed with the Ballad Opera Prince Charlie and Flora Macdonald. The Highland sheeling was perfect. The Prince finally disguised steps out "On the hills that are by right his aim. He roams a lonely stranger."

On Saturday morning the Lieut.-Governor, wearing the Royal Bruce tartan, and party were early on the grounds, enjoying the music, dancing and some of the athletic sports.

Sunday morning was devoted to an open-air service conducted by Ralph Connor (Rev. Dr. C. W. Gordon), and Col. Fraser, of Toronto. This service was very impressive, reminding many present of service of their ancestors in covenanting times.

Monday was the great day for athletics. All the events were well filled, and the records made second to none at any similar gathering in Canada. The quoit pitching was excellent, being keenly contested, the weight of some of the quoits being from ten pounds, and the distance fifty-four feet. Much handshaking is quite a feature of this game when particularly good shots are made. Tossing the caber is a very interesting and strenuous game. It means hurling a telegraph pole through the air, when it falls on its end it must lie in a straight line from the thrower. The sixteen-pound hammer-throw prize by the Lieut.-Governor was captured by a Vancouver man. Throwing a fifty-six-pound weight for height and distance requires some muscle. All the races were well contested. Some disappointment was expressed that Percy Williams, of Vancouver, was not present.

Witnessing these games one is reminded of the scene of the great Douglas cast, with this difference, that there is no decadence in Canadian strength in modern days.

The New DETACHABLE Window

100% easier to clean

To be truly modern, your new home should have Kleen-eze Windows. A simple sideway movement removes the sash completely from the frame. Dangerous beck-breaking work of cleaning outside window surfaces is eliminated.

The Kleen-eze Window has many other advantages. There are no sash cords, pulleys or weights to fail. The window is firmly held in lowered easily to any desired position. It cannot stick. It is dustproof and weathertight. Costly weather-stripping is eliminated. The Kleen-eze Window cannot rattle. Fullest ventilation may be obtained by removing both sections of the sash.

The Kleen-eze Window, operated by "tension-control," costs approximately $5.50 less to install than the ordinary sash-weighted window. There is no upkeep cost. Have Lemon, Gonnason explain the operation of this new window . . how it cuts down your building costs . . . helps to make your home fully modern.

DR. SIPPRELL TO FORECAST FUTURE CHURCH

Sermon Prelude at Metropolitan on "Mussolini and the Pope"—Morning Exchange of Pulpits

REV. BRUCE GRAY AT MORNING HOUR

This morning Dr. Sipprell, pastor of Metropolitan Church, will exchange pulpits with Rev. Bruce G. Gray, of First United Church. In the evening Dr. Sipprell will conduct the services in his own church. This service will begin at 7:30 o'clock with a congregational song service, led by the pastor of the church. This will be followed by a pre-sermon address on "Mussolini and the Pope: What Does Temporal Sovereignty of the Pope Signify?"

The sermon will consider "The Church of Tomorrow." Dr. Sipprell will say what the church must become in message and in conception of her mission in order to function as the church of tomorrow.

The soloists are Mrs. Arthur Dowell, Mrs. S. M. Morton and Mr. Maurice Moss. The midweek service on Wednesday, at 8 o'clock, will be held in the auditorium. Dr. Sipprell will be in charge.

Indian Missionary To Be Speaker at Sluggett Memorial

Rev. E. W. Armstrong, B.A., who has spent seven years in India as a missionary, working under the Canadian Baptist Foreign Mission Board, will be the speaker at the regular service today in the Sluggett Memorial Baptist Church, Saanich.

Women's Canadian Club Invites East Indian to Speak

THE approaching visit of Rev. J. W. R. Netram, of Indore, India, to speak at the United Church missionary conferences to be held on the Coast October 20-25, will be taken advantage of by the Women's Canadian Club, which expects to hear him on some aspect of Indian life at a luncheon on October 22.

Mr. Netram is of Indian race, and has been associated for many years with Canadian missionaries. Dr. Stanley E. Jones has commended him as "an authentic interpreter of Christ and of India."

Rev. H. Nixon to Talk of Parents On Probation

"The Friendship of God" is the subject chosen by the pastor, Rev. Hugh Nixon, for the morning service and at 7:30 he will take the third of a series of sermons on "Education and Religion," dealing with a most interesting theme, "Parents on Probation." The morning soloist will be Miss Grace Platt, and the evening Mrs. Stanley Honeychurch, with an anthem both morning and evening by the choir.

SACRAMENT SET

St. Paul's Presbyterian Church Services for Today

The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be dispensed at 11 o'clock this morning in St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, Victoria West. At 7:30 o'clock the minister, Rev. J. S. Paterson, will preach on "Last Words," and a bright song service will commence at 7.15 o'clock.

OUTLOOK ON MISSIONS AT FIRST CHURCH

Dr. Sipprell and Rev. Bruce Gray to Exchange Pulpits This Morning—Mr. Gray to Preach Tonight

SONG SERVICE IS SET FOR SEPT. 29

By way of courtesy, Dr. W. J. Sipprell, the pastor's neighbor of the First Church congregation will supply the pulpit this morning in the absence of Dr. Bruce Gray, the assistant minister, Rev. Bruce Gray preaching in the Metropolitan. Dr. Sipprell will speak on "The Foreign Mission Outlook," and in the evening service, on "The Heroism of Endurance."

The choir music for the day is as follows: Organ voluntary Andante, "Prepare Ye the Way" (Garrett); solo, Miss Ella Watson; Mrs. M. Thomas and Mr. S. J. Mitchell, duet, "Behold, the Lamb of God" (Wallace); anthem, "Unfold, Ye Portals" (Gounod); soloist, Miss Ella Watson. The choir will give a service of song under the leadership of Mr. W. G. Fyfe, on the evening of September 29.

Two Members of James Bay United Will Be Honored

The Inevitable Christ" will be the theme of Rev. Thomas Keywood at the evening service at James Bay United Church today. The senior choir will be back in its place and will render an anthem entitled "As Panis the Hart." Sunday school will meet at 10 o'clock, and will be followed by the morning hour of worship, when the theme to be treated by the minister will be "Nature's Noblest Gem."

The congregation is invited to attend the session of the Victoria Presbytery of the United Church of Canada on Tuesday evening next, when two of its own honored church members, in the persons of Rev. and Mrs. C. E. Tate will be honored by the presbytery on the holding of the jubilee of Mr. Tate's ordination, and of the golden wedding of the aged couple. Very interesting features are being arranged for this service.

Rev. A. O. Thompson To Take as His Topic "When Religion Pays"

Divine service will be conducted today at the Tillicum Road Presbyterian Church, Burnside Manor, at 11 o'clock, and at Erskine Presbyterian Church, corner of Gladstone and Stanley Avenue and Fernhill Road, at 7. Rev. A. O. Thompson, the minister, will take for his subject at both churches "When Religion Pays." The usual week night service will be held at the George on Tuesday evening and at Erskine Church on Thursday.

Milton's Poem Taken As Sermon Title at Knox Presbyterian

"This Noisy Age" (1 Kings xix. 12) will be the theme of the sermon today, at 11 o'clock, in Knox Presbyterian Church, corner of Gladstone and Stanley Avenue. The subject of the address at 7:30 will be "Paradise Lost" (Book III, 56). The pastor, Rev. T. Harren Davies, M.A., will conduct both services. Sunday school will be held at usual at 9.45 o'clock.

Prosperity and Health Topic at First Spiritual

Mme. Sherry will talk on "Abundance and How to Obtain It" on the Great Supply for Health and Prosperity." The law of concentration will be explained and demonstrated First Spiritual Church, Harmony Hall, 724 Fort Street. Service at 7:30 o'clock. Visitors are invited.

Visitor to Tell Of Life in the Belgian Congo

The message ...rning at the Pentecostal Assembly, 1318 Broad Street, will be specially interesting on "Rub Ghasing a Type of the Church," and in the evening at 7:30 o'clock there will be an evangelistic message on "How God Honors the Precious Blood," which will bring a stirring appeal for the old-time gospel.

A special missionary meeting will be held on Wednesday, September 18, at 8 o'clock, when Rev. Alex Walker, who has been for some years missionary to the Belgian Congo, will speak on his work there and will display some African curios. You cannot afford to miss this service.

WELSH DIVINE IS TO HOLD MISSION

Rev. Arthur Harries Will Conduct Eight Days' Services at the Church of Our Lord

According to arrangement made some time ago with the Reformed Episcopal congregation, Rev. Arthur Harries, D.D., late of Cardiff and London, will conduct an eight-days' mission in the church at 3 o'clock beginning today. The general theme of the revivalistic and convincing speaker will be "The Covenants of God."

Mr. Harries, who was associated with the work of Evan Roberts, will speak this afternoon at 3 o'clock on "The Welsh Revival." Afternoon meetings will be held at 2 o'clock from Tuesday to Friday and evening meetings every week night thereafter. The public is cordially invited. The mission commences today by Rev. T. E. Rowe was very well attended.

A READING ROOM

New Thought Temple Is Enlarging Programme in New Quarters at 720½ Fort Street

The inner meaning of the seventh and eighth commandments will be the subjects for the morning and evening services at the New Thought Temple, 720½ Fort Street. At 10:15 o'clock the Sunday school will be open. An adult class for the young people will be organized, with Mrs. Davis as teacher.

On Wednesday evening the subject will be "Prayer: Its Power to Victory." A reading-room will be opened to the public in the new home of the Temple Classes in scientific body-building, and self-healing are now being arranged for afternoon and evening.

BEHAVIOUR UNDER EMOTIONALISM TOLD BY DR. A. F. BARTON

Dr. A. F. Barton will speak at the Progressive Thought Temple, 935 Pandora Avenue. At 11 o'clock he will take for his theme "Immortality," in which he will attempt to answer the question propounded by Job, "If a man die, shall he live?" The Sunday school, under the leadership of Mrs. F. Dumont, will meet at 11 o'clock. At the evening service at 7:30 Dr. Barton has chosen for his theme "Good Morning." In which he will attempt to explain the behavior of people under emotionalism. The Wednesday health lecture class will be held at 8 p.m. with "Iodine." Dr. Barton's health classes commence Friday at 8 p.m. Enrolments for which are now being received.

MARRIAGE MISTAKE

Rev. O. J. Jull to Speak on Matrimonial Venture That Marred Mankind

The following services will be held at St. Mark's Church, Cloverdale today: Holy Communion at 8 o'clock, Holy Communion and sermon at 11, and Evensong at 7 o'clock. Rev. O. L. Jull, vicar of the parish, will take both the morning subject, "The Old Thought Which Is Always New and Progressive," and at Evensong will preach upon "A Marriage Mistake Which Has Marred Mankind Ever Since." Sunday school at 10 o'clock and the vicar's Bible class at 10.15.

Famous Billy Sunday Is Going Into Filmdom

THAT the famous evangelist, "Billy Sunday," is going into the movies and has signed a film contract at a price approximating a million dollars is stated by The Western Christian Advocate, according to the last issue of The Christian Century of Chicago. Homer Rodeheaver, the evangelist's song leader, released the news of the proposal which will shortly be given further publicity. In what sort of a film Dr. Sunday will star, and whether he will take the role of a preacher is not yet disclosed. He was recently quoted as saying, "They offered me a million dollars to get into the movies, but I turned it down. I can do more good speaking to the people face to face."

CHART STUDIES TO BE RESUMED

Rev. J. B. Rowell Will Study Interesting Part of Book of Revelations at Evening Service

CENTRAL MEETS IN NEW CHURCH

This evening this pastor of the Central Church, Rev. J. B. Rowell, will resume the chart studies in the Book of the Revelation, when he will speak on the subject, "The Marriage Supper of the Lamb—the Glorious Consummation When Christ Comes." The pastor will answer the question, "If the happenings in the world are clearly foretold, what is foretold in prophecy concerning the church after Christ comes?"

In the forenoon the pastor will take up "Precious Meditations in the Epistle to the Hebrews," the subject being "The Threefold Blessing of the New Covenant." Visitors in the city will find the Central Baptist people worshipping in their new and commodious church on Pandora Avenue, near Quadra.

TWO BISHOPS TO VISIT ST. PAUL'S

Garrison Congregation Anticipate Consecration of New Cathedral

Refreshed by the Summer change, the church and Sunday school are looking back in good numbers. All old St. Paul's scholars and new ones are registering. Senior Bible classes are forming. Being a good chance to teen age boys and girls.

Congregations are swelled by returning Sunday schoolites, and all are looking forward to the forthcoming services in connection with the consecration of the new cathedral. As some desiring seating for those services have been disappointed, it may be possible for one or two at the last moment to get their desires. Every effort will apply in the matter.

One interesting feature of St. Paul's participation in the consecration occasion will be the visit of many Bishops to the parish on Sunday, September 29, when Dr. Sage with Frederick Robins, Bishop of Athabasca, who will preach at 10:30 o'clock, and Dr. Rockaborough Smith, Bishop of Algoma, at 7.

The services at the Garrison Church are timed at the usual hours. Naval parties will parade at 10.30 o'clock.

CHURCH LEADERS WILL SPEAK HERE

Drs. Gunn, Endicott and Cochrane Will Attend Church Conference

At the farthest Western point in the Dominion-wide visitation, the local congregations will hear, on Tuesday, October 22, three leaders of the United Church of Canada from the world-wide work of this Church. These are the Moderator, Rev. Dr. T. Cluny Gunn, Rev. D. Endicott and Rev. J. Cochrane, all laborers. India, Rev. Dr. D. B. Cochrane, Honan, Rev. Dr. Endicott, Honan National Mission Secretary, will preach in the morning, subject, "The Old Morning. October 30, and at Centennial Church in the evening.

The report on the Missionary and Maintenance Fund will be presented to Presbytery on Tuesday next. It is then that the congregations in Victoria and Up-Island have given almost one-third of the total allocation of $28,000.

SUBSTANCE TO BE SUBJECT TODAY OF CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

All churches and societies of Christ, Scientist, branches of the Mother Church, the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass., will have the subject of "Substance" for their lesson - sermon today with the following golden text from Psalms xxxix. 12: "Thy name, O Lord, endureth forever, and Thy memorial, O Lord, throughout all generations."

Sunday morning services at First Church of Christ, Scientist, Victoria, are held at 11 o'clock. Evening services are at 7:30 o'clock. Wednesday evening services, which include testimonies of healing, are held at 8 o'clock. A free reading-room for the public is maintained in the Sayward Building.

REV. H. J. ARMITAGE TO SPEAK ON COST OF DOING RIGHT

Rev. H. J. Armitage will occupy the pulpit both morning and evening today at Victoria West United Church. At the 11 o'clock service he will preach on "Suffering for a Great Cause." At the 7.30 service the subject of the sermon will be "The Frustrating Power of Unbelief." The choirs will render anthems at these services, and all interested are cordially invited to worship in this church. The Sunday school will meet at 12.15 o'clock following the morning service.

There will be a meeting of the official board of this church on Monday evening at 8 o'clock. All the members are urged to attend to deal with important business

TO PREACH ON AGE-OLD QUEST

REV. H. P. S. LUTTRELL TAKES SUFFERING AS TOPIC AT ST. ANDREW'S

Day's Soloists at "Church of the Children" Are Miss Crawford and Mrs. Goss

At St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, corner of Douglas and Broughton Streets this morning, the minister, Rev. H. P. S. Luttrell, B.A., will discuss Job's great problem and ordeal, which may be stated thus: "Given Suffering—to Find God," taking his text from the Book of Job, chapter xxiii, the twelfth verse: "In the evening the subject will be "Jesus and the Message," based on Amos v, verses 14 and 15: "Seek ye me and ye shall live. But let justice roll down as waters, and righteousness as a mighty stream."

The soloist for the morning is Miss Isabel Crawford, who will sing "Like a the Hart," and at the evening service Mrs. Douglas Goss will sing "With Love He Cleaneth Every Heart," a composition by Vandyke Reed. A cordial invitation is extended to all to come and worship at the Church with the Chimes."

REV. J. S. A. BASTIN TO BE AT ST. ALBAN'S HARVEST FESTIVAL

Thanksgiving, for the blessings of harvest will be offered at St. Alban's, Rockland Avenue, on Sunday, September 20, at 8 o'clock. The preacher will be Rev. J. S. A. Bastin, rector of Mount Newton. This ministration will be continued on Sunday, September 22.

Sunday school reassembled last Sunday, when Rev. J. W. Leighton conducted a children's service, at which he baptized Dorothy Victoria, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Simon, of 1 Rockland Avenue. While the good weather holds Sunday school will meet in the morning at 10.15 o'clock and the morning service will begin at 11.15 o'clock.

VETERANS WILL GET TESTIMONIAL

Presbytery of Victoria Will Meet on Tuesday—Rev. C. M. Tate to Be Honored

About seventy-five ministers and laymen of the United Church will assemble Tuesday morning at 9.30 o'clock in the Metropolitan Church for the Fall meeting of the Presbytery of Victoria. Reports on home and foreign missions, evangelism and social service, religious education and missionary and maintenance fund will be presented and officers will be elected for the coming year.

On Tuesday evening a joint session of the Presbytery and of the local Social Union will be held, at which a testimonial will be presented to Rev. C. M. Tate and Mrs. Tate in recognition of their fifty years of missionary labor among the Indians of the Coast. Dr. Sipprell will make an address on behalf of the church which is the lineal successor of the Pandora Street congregation, some of whose members were the donors of the site to the Government and Pleasant Streets. Dr. J. K. Unsworth and Rev. Peter Kelley are also expected to speak on behalf of the Indian people, and all interested in Indian missions are invited to this occasion.

The service at St. Martin's-in-the-Fields, Oliver Avenue, Oak Bay, this evening will be at 7 o'clock, and will include a special solo by a chorister, accompanied by Mrs. Clifford Warn.

Chinook Jargon Is Used in Aboriginal Churches of B.C.

British Columbia Missionaries Adopted Chinook as Medium of Worship and Instruction—Father Le Jeune Contributed Much Literature for Use of Catholic Indians

Local Man's Version of St. Mark's in Common Use

"THE good news of Jesus Christ, Son of Chief Above. Like the old prophets wrote. I will send one man before you to make good your road. Like a big voice in wilderness. Good make road for Chief Above; make straight his road." Such is a literal translation into the Chinook jargon of the first three verses of St. Mark's Gospel as published by the British and Foreign Bible Society from the rendering made by Rev. C. M. Tate, of this city.

Confronted with the usual variety of languages found among native races the world over and the necessity of a language medium for wide contacts with many tribes, both the commercial and church interests operating along the upper Pacific Coast adopted and elaborated the Chinook as such a medium. Whatever be its origin, it is a mixture of the Chinook of Creason with the Nootka of the West Coast and a liberal sprinkling of French, English and a few Spanish words, along with other bits of verbal cottage from the visitings common to all languages making for.

Christian missionaries in all parts of the world have been in the forefront in reducing native speech to writing. Indeed, there has been little done in this sphere by others, and to them the world of knowledge has been indebted for both bringing to the inferior races the wealth of the superior races, but also of putting into permanent form the contribution, slight though it may be at times, of the inferior races to the total sum of human experience. In British Columbia many of the tribal dialects have been reduced to writing by Christian missionaries, some of whom have been able to speak in five, ten and even fifteen modes of language usage expression.

HYMNS IN CHINOOK

There is considerable Chinook literature in existence and most of it has been produced to promote the Christian faith among the natives of the Coast. There is St. Mark's Gospel, mentioned above, of which the first sixteen words in Chinook may be given "Okook klonah yiem Jesus Christah, Sah-a-ke Tyee kwass Kakwa okook sankutes prophets mamook tumtum." At once are noticed the words "Jesus Christ," which stand due, the same in all tongues, the one universal name. The word "prophets" is taken over as in English. "Tyee" is now a familiar term among us, the "Chief," and "Sahake Tyee" is the Chief Above, God."

Many hymns, as might be expected, were translated into Chinook. The late Father Francis, in his series of articles in the B.C. Orphans' Friend on "Early Cowichan History," gives the following which is popular in use in early days among the Indians of the Island:

Viva Jesus! (three times)
Nika Kloshe Konoika nawitka,
Sahal Tai asa skukum.
Iaka tumtum sahali pi eliali.
Viva Jesus! (three times).

This may be translated: "Hail Jesus! I know indeed the Chief Above is very high made the heavens and the earth. Hail Jesus!" My Tale turned many favorite English hymns into Chinook for use among the Methodist missions along the Coast. These are found in his Chinook dictionary which is now, however, out of print. The stately opening lines of "Unto the Hills" is rendered:

"Saghalie Tyee nsamook Klahowya, Kloosh help nika," and "O happy Day" by "O klooch tumtum kopa kt sun."

CATHOLIC CONTRIBUTION

From the Roman Catholic missionaries came a considerable body of Christian literature in Chinook. Bishop Demers published in 1860 the Dogma of the Immaculate Conception, "Bible History" was translated by Bishop Durieu, O.M.I., in 1863. The veteran missionary Father J. M. Le Jeune, O.M.I., of Kamloops whose jubilee has just been celebrated, made the largest contribution in a manual of prayers with chants and hymns, a book of devotions, and more especially the publication of Wawa, or Echoes, a monthly periodical in the Chinook tongue and set up by stenographic characters, first printed on May 3, 1891, by mimeograph and later by photo-engraving. In the 1896 series appeared Bishop Durieu's New Testament in eighty-two chapters, the Royal Mass, the Requiem Mass and other helps in the church services.

Glancing forward and backward, it can be said that as the young Indians take on education in English the Chinook will pass away, but the influence of the various Christian missionaries will not pass away. It is inwrought into the Indians' upward progress.

LAST DAYS IN PRESENT CATHEDRAL

Professor C. E. Quainton to Lecture Monday on Modern American Novel—Mr. S. F. Bulley to Lecture

SUNDAY SCHOOL WILL ASSEMBLE

Today's services and those of next Sunday will probably be the last services of public worship to be held in the old Christ Church Cathedral. Three services of Holy Communion are announced for today beginning at 8 o'clock with later services at 8 and at noon after Matins. The Dean of Columbia will preach at the morning service at 11 o'clock and at choral Evensong at 7.30.

At 7 o'clock this evening a congregational practice of church music will be conducted in the Cathedral by the organist and choirmaster, Mr. Stanley F. Bulley. The Cathedral Sunday school will resume work in all departments today, meeting in the Memorial Hall. The senior school, for young people of high school and college age and over, will assemble at 9.45 o'clock. The junior, primary and beginners' departments meet at 11 o'clock.

Among the important engagements at the Memorial Hall this week is a public lecture to be given by C. Kden Quainton, B.A., Assistant Professor of History in the University of Washington, tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock, on "The Modern American Novel," as illustrated by Willa Cather, Sinclair Lewis and Theodore Dreiser." The Dean will take the chair punctually at 8 o'clock. Admission is free to all with a collection for funds of the senior branch of the Woman's Auxiliary.

On Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock, the Dean's tutorial class will meet, and on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock, Mr. Stanley F. Bulley will deliver an address to the Men's Guild on "The Male Voice in Worship."

ST. MARY'S TO HOLD REGULAR SERVICES

Sunday School Meets in Different Grades—Well Known Anthem to Be Rendered

There will be a celebration of Holy Communion in St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay today at 8 o'clock. Matins and sermon at 11, Evensong and sermon at 7.30. The anthem will be "The King of Love My Shepherd Is" (Shalley). The Sunday school meets in St. Mary's Hall, senior classes at 9.45 o'clock, junior classes at 11. Each Thursday there is a celebration of Holy Communion at 10.30 o'clock.

Theosophical Society

Tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock, in the Jones Building, Fort Street, the Victoria Independent Theosophical Society will hold a public meeting and will present the subject of "Conditional Immortality" for study and discussion. The discussion is open to all and earnest students are invited to participate.

ST. JOHN'S RECTOR TO TAKE THEMES FROM BOTH TESTAMENTS

Mr. G. F. Burnett to Give Usual Organ Recital—Young People Meet at 3:30 o'Clock

The rector of St. John's, Rev. P. A. F. Chadwick, will preach in his church at both the services today, choosing subjects arising from the appointed Scriptures for the day. The morning subject will be "God's Lesson to Jeremiah," while the theme, "Christ, the Light of the World," has been selected for the evening.

The services at St. John's will consist of Holy Communion at 8 o'clock, Morning Prayer at 11, and Evensong at 7.30. Mr. G. J. Burnett will render an organ recital immediately preceding the evening service, commencing at 7.10 o'clock, leadership of Mr. S. C. Hawkins.

Sunday school will be held at 3.30 o'clock, and at the same hour the Anglican Young People's Bible Class will meet in the vestry under the leadership of Mr. S. G. Hawkins.

Salvation Army Begins Harvest Festival Today

Special Harvest Festival services will be held at the Salvation Army Citadel, Broad Street, today, at 11, 7.15 and 7.15 o'clock. Adjutant and Mrs. Merrett will read the meetings. Sunday school is held in the Citadel at 2 o'clock, and children from the age of four years are taken care of in the primary department, where sand tray classes make the Bible story interesting.

The annual Harvest Festival sale will take place in the Citadel tomorrow night, at 8 o'clock, when the goods will be disposed of by auction. Donations of fruit, vegetables, flowers or any saleable articles will be gratefully accepted at the Citadel tomorrow or called for by telephoning to 1142R. The hall has been decorated for the occasion, and both residents and visitors in the city are cordially invited to all of the meetings.

Duty of Serving Is Morning Theme At Douglas Street

Services will be conducted today at the Douglas Street Baptist Church, Cloverdale, at 11 o'clock and in the evening at 7.30. Rev. F. W McKinnon, the pastor, will take for his subject in the morning "The Stewardship of Service" and the sermonette for the children will be "God's Birds." At the evening service Mr. McKinnon will preach on "Eternal Contrasts." Sunday school at 3 o'clock. Prayer meeting Wednesday evening, and the B.Y.P.U. Tuesday.

NINTH ANNIVERSARY

Miss Bowyer, of Kansas City, to Be Special Speaker at Unity Centre Today

Miss Edna Bowyer, who has been at Kansas City headquarters for five years, will speak at both services today at Unity Centre. At 11 o'clock her subject will be "The Great Purpose." At 7.30 she will speak on "How to Demonstrate Prosperity." On Monday evening at 8 o'clock, Miss Bowyer will speak on "How to Demonstrate Health." On Tuesday afternoon at 3.45 there will be the rest and healing hour.

On Thursday evening at 8 o'clock there will be the usual anniversary social gathering, which will include the reception of new members. A short report of the year's work will be given by Mr. Pratt, with an interesting programme and a social time with refreshments. The public who are interested are invited to attend any or all of these meetings.

TO TELL TALE OF KLONDIKE DAYS

Vivid Experience of Rev. George Pringle to Be Related at Centennial Tonight

Continuing his sermons in Centennial Church on the revelation of God in history, Rev. George O. F. Pringle will take as his subject in the morning, "The God of Paul." The text will be taken from II Corinthians 4:6, "For God, who commanded the light to shine out of darkness, hath shined in our hearts, to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ."

Now and again, during the Fall and Winter, Mr. Pringle will have a Sunday evening "fireside" at which a story will be told during the sermon period. This evening the evening he will tell the tale of a vivid experience he had in the early days of the Klondike goldfields. The story is entitled, "The Thief."

In the morning the anthem, "Great and Marvelous," by Dudley Buck, will be given, and Mrs. J. Correy will sing the offertory solo "Sacred by Grace." The anthem "What of the Night," by Dennis, will be rendered by the choir in the evening.

TO GIVE REAL CAUSE OF WAR

DR. DAVIES BEGINS SERIES OF SERMONS TO FURTHER PEACE SPIRIT

"Recessional" and "Battle Hymn of Republic" to Be Sung at Evening Service

Dr Clem Davies will commence his new series on "World Peace" this evening at the City Temple, taking for his first sermon the theme "The Real Cause of the Great War." After a decade has passed, Dr. Davies thinks that it is now possible to make a just appraisal of the war's causes, since our attitude toward our former foes has now undergone a change and the healing of time has dissipated much prejudice and bitterness. The series will continue for a number of Sunday evenings into November, and every phase of peace will be adequately discussed.

The morning theme will be "I Don't Know What I Believe." Kipling's "Recessional" and Julia Ward Howe's "Battle Hymn" will be sung at the evening service. Miss Bobbie Stephens, soprano, will be the evening soloist. Dr. Davies announces that his evening sermon-lecture will commence promptly at 7.40 o'clock, ten minutes after the opening of the service.

CHRIST OF ENGLISH ROAD IS THEME

Rev. H. Knox Will Review Recent Book at Emmanuel Baptist

The services in Emmanuel Baptist Church today will be conducted by Rev. Henry Knox. The subject of the evening sermon will be "The Difference Christ Has Made." The message, in part, will be based on a recently published book, "The Christ of the English Road," in which the authors, "Two Wayfarers," trace the presence and influence of Christ in the history of England. The choir will render the anthem, "Ye Shall Dwell in the Land" (Stainer). The Lord's Supper will be observed at this service.

"The Peril of Indolence" will be the subject of the morning sermon. The choir will sing Haydn's "Creation Hymn."

ST. SAVIOUR'S WILL BEGIN SERIES, MEN'S PLEASANT EVENINGS

The first of a series of "Pleasant Evenings" under the auspices of the Men's Auxiliary will be held in St. Saviour's Parish Hall on Tuesday next, Sept. 17, at 8 o'clock.

TO PREPARE FOR COMMUNION

The theme for the morning worship at Wilkinson Road, and for the afternoon, will be "Forgiveness—the All-Conquering Method of Jesus." Luke ix, 54, xxiii, 34. The evening subject at Wilkinson Road will be "What Does Jesus Expect of Us?" Matt. xvi, 24.

The Young People's Club will meet this evening at 6.30 o'clock.

On Thursday evening, September 19, at 8 o'clock, the monthly devotional meeting of the congregation at Wilkinson Road will be a preparation service for the Communion on Sunday next.

British-Israel Lecture

On Monday the subject will be "The Laws of Our Land Compared With the Statutes of Jehovah. Is There a Change Coming?" The lecture will take place in the Board of Trade Building, 931 Bastion Street, and the lecturer will be Mr. W. H. Blackaller. These lectures are growing in popularity. A welcome is extended to all.

Malcolm Hanson, Byrd Operator, Wins Gold Medal

THE gold medal for "the most distinguished contribution to wireless communication during the year 1929" has been awarded to Malcolm P. Hanson, radio engineer and chief wireless operator of Commander Byrd's Antarctic expedition in the region of the South Pole.

The award, given by the Veteran Wireless Operators' Association, was announced at a dinner given at the Hotel Astor in New York.

Presentation of the medal will be made by radio during the Radio World's Fair at Madison Square Garden September 23-28. The ceremony will be broadcast over a nation-wide chain of stations linked with the crystal studio at the radio show.

TO HEAR VISITOR SPEAK ON INDIA

Rev. E. W. Armstrong Is at First Baptist This Morning—Pastor Preaches Tonight

Rev. E. W. Armstrong, S.A., a visitor to this city from India, will deliver the message at the morning service at the First Baptist Church today, the service beginning at 11 o'clock. After a seven years' residence among such remarkable people, Mr. Armstrong is in a position to discuss intelligently a situation that looms increasingly large in the affairs of the world. The church choir will sing Maunder's "O Thou Whose Sweet Compassion." The church school will assemble at 12 o'clock.

The minister, Rev. James Strachan, will preach in the evening and will have for his subject "The Eternal Refuge." Mrs. R. McIntosh will sing Eville's "I Will Lift Mine Eyes." This service is at 7.30 o'clock.

The B.Y.P.U. of the church will begin its Fall and Winter work on Monday evening, September 23. The meeting will be held in the parlor of the church. The teachers and officers of the school will hold their monthly supper meeting on Tuesday at 6.30 o'clock. The midweek meeting of the church will take place on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock in the church parlor.

Fire-Proof Weather-Proof and Permanently Beautiful

When reroofing can no longer be postponed let our roofing experts tell you why "DUROID" Slate-Surfaced Asphalt Shingles should be your choice. Their bright, harmonious color tones simply rejuvenate an older home and add immensely to its value. The color does not fade with the passing years . . . it can't . . . because natural crushed slate is the only coloring used. That means no painting . . . no added cost after your new roof is laid . . . no further expense as the years roll by. "DUROID" Shingles are also fireproof and, therefore, reduce insurance cost. You can reduce heating costs, too, by laying the new "DUROID" roof right over old shingles. You preserve a valuable under layer of insulation material which keeps heat in the home when furnace time comes around.

Favorite Composers of Many Nationalities to Be Heard During Sunday Afternoon Concert

ORCHESTRA TO PLAY POPULAR MELODIES

Delivering an address on "Our Unused Trophies" to a radio congregation from coast to coast, Dr. Ralph W. Sockman will be heard during the broadcast of the National Sunday Forum through N.B.C. System stations today between 12 and 1:30 o'clock, Pacific standard time.

The eminent New York clergyman will also conduct a "Question Box," presenting his viewpoint on the solution of problems of both religious and secular natures.

George Dilworth will conduct the Oratorio Choristers in sacred music. Hart Gliddings, organist, will also participate in the church service.

Composers of many nationalities will be represented by classic masterpieces on the programme for the Sunday Afternoon Concert to be broadcast in two sections this afternoon, the first from 1:30 to 2:30, and the second from 3 to 4:15 o'clock.

Charles Hart, occupying the director's stand, will conduct the National Concert Orchestra in both periods. Harry Stanton, basso, will be presented as soloist during the opening hour and in the closing seventy-five minutes a quartette of feminine vocalists will offer gospel hymns and songs. Barbara Blanchard and Ethel Waterfield, soprano, and Margaret O'Dea and Eva Grutinger Atkinson, contralto, form the quartette.

The concert will begin with the overture to "Schone Galatea," one of 210 stage works by Franz von Suppe, the gifted Belgian composer. Then follows Debussy's exquisitely light and delicate "Arabesque No. 1."

French composition of exotic theme and rippling rhythm. The familiar and beloved "Nutcracker Suite," by the Russian, Tschaikowsky, and the majestic and dignified "Pomp and Circumstance," by Sir Edward Elgar, England's greatest composer, are two other noteworthy selections programmed for the first section of the concert.

In the second half listeners will hear the two interments from "Jewels of the Madonna," composed by the Italian, Wolf-Ferrari; the long-list and graceful ballet music from "Rosamunde" by Schubert, an Austrian of remarkable musical gifts, and the "Woodland Sketches, Book No. 12," by Edward MacDowell, one of America's most distinguished composers.

ANGLO-PERSIANS

Musical dance pictures and a group of popular melodies by Hirsch are two of the numbers scheduled for the Whitfall Anglo-Persian programme as they broadcast this afternoon from 3:30 to 3 o'clock, Pacific standard time.

The dance pictures are by Repper and include two selections—"Brooks and Frocks," and "Le Joya." In the Hirsch group, especially arranged by Louis Katzman, are "Learn to Smile," "I Am Thinking of You," and "Love Nest."

An Oriental atmosphere will pervade the air when the orchestra plays Ketelby's descriptive "In a Persian Market," and Rimsky-Korsakoff's brilliant "Danse Lithuanienne."

Catherine Wade-Smith, a young Pacific Coast violinist who was called "the find" by Jacques Thibaud, will be the soloist during the coast-to-coast broadcast of the Atwater Kent programme tonight from 8.15 to 9.45 o'clock, Pacific standard time, through stations of the N.B.C. System.

Josef Pasternack will conduct the Atwater Kent orchestra during the half-hour.

Another page from the Bible will be dramatized today between 8.45 and 9.15 o'clock, Pacific standard time, when the Biblical Dramas half-hour is broadcast through a transcontinental network tonight.

STUDEBAKER CHAMPIONS

Dance music and popular ballads will be heard by N.B.C. System audiors tonight between 8.15 and 8.45 o'clock, Pacific standard time, when Jesse Delikarie directs the Studebaker Champions during a half-hour broadcast.

Gershwin's popular dance tune, "Tell Certain Feeling," leads the list of selections programmed, and "Thinking of You," from "Five O'Clock Tea," is the closing number. "Home Sweet Home" will herald the arrival before the microphone of the Enna Jettick Ensemble which will be heard fifteen minutes tonight beginning at 7.45 o'clock.

Old-fashioned songs are prominent in tonight's programme, with "Good-Bye, Dolly, I Must Leave You" and "Sweet Genevieve" among those listed. Joseph Rinaldi directs the orchestra and quartetta of vocal artists.

On alternate Saturdays, KQW devotes the period from 8:30 to 9:30 in the evening to a series of Italian programmes. These are presented in the Italian language, with the announcements in both Italian and English. The musical selections on the programmes include Italian classics and characteristic folk and peasant songs.

CITY TEMPLE ON THE AIR TODAY

The Victoria City Temple "Where Religion Cheers," will offer their services over the air today to radio listeners tuned the CFCT, the local station. The morning service will commence at 11 o'clock and the evening service at 7:30 o'clock, and Dr. Clem Davies will be the speaker at both services.

Tomorrow evening, Monday, the Sunset Concert Orchestra will present, commencing at 8:15, another popular nightly "Sunset programme. A military march, "Old Comrades, by Zeike, will open this programme. Louis Herold, composer of the overture next to be played this evening, was the pupil of his father, His opera, "Zampa," was once highly popular. The overture to "Zampa" will next be heard by listeners. Leslie Stuart's musical comedy, "Florodora" was first produced in London in 1899. A group of well-known airs from "Florodora" next faces on this programme. This will be followed by the suite, "Mignonette," by the Bohemian composer, Rudolf Friml. Then radio enthusiasts will hear "Oriental Echoes" by Zig-a-Zag," by Henry Flock. As the concluding number tomorrow evening the Sunset Concert Orchestra are to play a grand selection from "Tip Top," written by the Belgian composer Ivan Caryll.

Lupe Luna and Aida Luther, who have entertained radio fans with their charming Spanish programmes over KTAB, will again be heard on October 13, when they will return to the studio with many new numbers which Miss Luna collected during a recent tour in Mexico.

N.B.C. Engineer Surprises Fans by August Marriage

The marriage August 7 of Miss Myrtle Schwarz of Roselle, N.J., to Howard C. Lutgens, division engineer for the National Broadcasting Company, with headquarters in Chicago, has been announced by the bride's parents.

The ceremony, performed in Elizabeth, N.J., with only a few close friends and relatives in attendance, culminates a childhood romance, begun when the couple were neighbors in Roselle.

Announcement of the wedding came as a surprise to Lutgens' associates, who had believed he came East on a vacation merely for the purpose of visiting relatives.

Following the wedding, Mr. and Mrs. Lutgens toured various Atlantic coast pleasure resorts. They will make their home in Chicago.

GLASS PANELLED STUDIO IS BEING ERECTED FOR KOA

A new glass-panelled, sound-proof studio to be used for broadcasting market reports and stand-by announcements is being completed at KOA in Denver.

It is on the ground floor of the station building and is adjacent to the six new offices built for use of the announcing and programme staffs and the news bureau.

Four-foot double panels of oak, separated by air columns, form the wall face of the new studio and double panels of glass extend the other eight feet to the ceiling. It will be KOA's third studio and will serve the double purpose of studio and office for Julian C. Riley, announcer and traffic manager, and Robert Owen, engineer in charge of technical operations.

Both men can thus work at their desks and still keep in constant touch with both technical and programme activities. And it no longer will be necessary to keep an announcer on duty several hours in the upstairs studios just to make the fifteen-minute stand-by announcements during N.B.C. programmes.

Radio Is Used to Create Cathedral Atmosphere in Hall

A new plan that, if developed, may raise another unemployment problem for musicians, was used successfully at a recent International Moose convention in Cardiff, England.

The ceremony was held in the City Hall and, being of a quasi-religious nature, called for an organ. As there was none in the building, a relay radio communication was established with a church a mile away through the British Broadcasting Company.

The hall was able to hear the singing of the 1,500 men as he sat in the church, and the music was, in turn, transmitted for accompaniment to the City Hall. Several loud-speakers were installed in various parts of the hall. A "real cathedral atmosphere" was created.

The next session of the Union Internationale de Radiophonie will be held at Barcelona in October and will be conducted under its new name, Union Internationale Radio-diffusion. Another meeting will take place at Budapest in the Spring of 1930.

RADIO FAVORITE ONCE FIREMAN

Howard Melaney, Lyric Tenor, Started September 1 in Public Engagements

Howard Melaney, well-known lyric tenor, who has sung over the air from more than ninety radio stations in the United States and Canada, started September 1 to cover a new circuit which will require 2,500 miles of travel each week.

Mr. Melaney, who is known as the "Singing Fireman of the Northern Pacific Railway," hereafter will sing each Monday night at station WOC, Davenport, Tuesday nights at KMOX, St. Louis; Wednesdays, WLW, Cincinnati; Thursdays, WLS, Chicago; and Fridays, KMBC, Kansas City.

Until three years ago Mr. Melaney was an obscure locomotive fireman, employed by the Northern Pacific on its North Coast Limited in Montana. His rise to fame was spectacular. His voice discovered by a music critic who chanced to hear Mr. Melaney sing while he was tuning up his locomotive at a Montana terminal, he was given an opportunity to sing in the studio of a Minneapolis radio station. Since that date he has been in demand as a radio and concert singer throughout the United States. His radio engagements have carried him from New York to Los Angeles and from Thomiss to New Orleans.

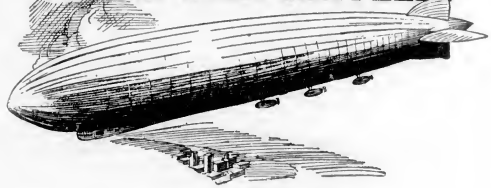
CHOSEN
FOR THE WORLD FLIGHT
OF THE GRAF ZEPPELIN



When the Graf Zeppelin sailed recently from Lakehurst, N.J., on its epoch-making flight around the world, it was equipped with a standard Kolster Radio of the same type selected by Commander Byrd for his expedition to the South Pole.

In selecting Kolster Radio, those in command of the Graf Zeppelin Flight made no mistake.

For 21 years Kolster has blazed a trail of leadership in the radio industry. First the Kolster Radio Compass, used by the great ocean liners of today, then—Kolster Radio—the development of that same genius, Dr. Frederick A. Kolster.

Commander Byrd, in the icy fastnesses of the Antarctic, enjoys regular broadcast programs over a Kolster set. The passengers and crew of the Graf Zeppelin will enjoy Kolster reception as they fly over the countries of the world. Tens of thousands of Kolster dealers and owners in England, Scotland, Ireland Canada and the United States join these famous Kolster owners in saying "Kolster is more than ever a fine set."

Kolster research and high standard of quality ensure the Kolster owner every modern radio advancement—as can be seen in Kolster's exclusive feature—the Selector Tuner.

Before you choose your radio visit a Kolster Dealer and ask him to demonstrate the Kolster.

Dealers in all parts of Canada already report a growing preference for the New Kolster models—electric and battery.

The Selector Tuner

The New Kolster is available in four All-Electric Models priced from $225 and up, less tubes

There are two Battery Models priced from $62.50 and up, less tubes

BELLINGHAM GIRL VIOLINIST ON AIR

Catherine Wade-Smith Will Be Heard in Recital This Evening

After a recital in Seattle that had been a triumph, Jacques Tribaud, famous French violinist, was approached by a shy so-ed, a Irishman in the State College, who asked him if he would hear her play.

The master, whose skill with the violin is only equalled by his interest in finding and encouraging ambitious young musicians, smilingly assented and was electrified by the Irishman appeal for slender young girl released from the strings of her violin. He gave her a note to Leon Samettini, the famous teacher in Chicago, announcing her to be a great "find."

That was the start of the career of Catherine Wade-Smith, the Bellingham, Washington, girl who will be sole artist in the Atwater Kent hour tonight. In the last five years she has startled staid critics into extraordinary praise of her work, and during this time has played in concerts throughout America singly and as soloist with such organizations as the New York Philharmonic Orchestra, the Hollywood Bowl Orchestra and others. She has also studied intensively, winning prizes offered by the National Federation of Music Clubs, the National Music League and the Walter W. Mannbery Foundation. Her concert career has gone on while her studies and has been an unbroken series of successes.

Catherine Wade-Smith began playing the violin as a very small child, when she had visions of following in the footsteps of the late Maud Powell. She confesses to having been paralyzed with fear when she first stood on the stage of the Chicago Auditorium—where only a few days before she had heard Kreisler in one of his superb recitals—and played before a crowded house with the Chicago Symphony Orchestra, a concerto the great Viennese artist had rendered, she did not recover from the fright until Director Frederick Stock took her by the hand and led her out to receive the applause of an enthusiastic audience.

In her programme Sunday night Miss Wade-Smith will be assisted by vocal listeners than "The Air Castle" the Atwater Kent Concert Orchestra and will present several of the great ballads, with which she has made a special success. The concert will be heard through a coast-to-coast network of stations served through the National Broadcasting Company, including KSL, Salt Lake City; KPO, San Francisco; KOO, Oakland; KFI, Los Angeles; KGW Portland; KOMO, Seattle; KOG, Spokane.

RADIO NEWS

Walter Beban, director of the newest N.B.C. dance orchestra, billed as the "Musical Manufacturers say a lot of the world before he took to the air." Beban visited the South Sea Islands and at one time directed the jazz band in the world's largest dance hall at Sydney, Australia.

Automobile are to be death toll crusses all over the world on the good ship Navigator, which a new series of broadcasts arranged for by the Southern California Manufacturers of the new radio receivers bearing that name is begun over the Paramount-Empress station KNX, Hollywood. The broadcasts will be heard every Wednesday night from 9 to 10 o'clock.

Radio advertising is on the increase. Paul R. Heinecpp announces that beginning this Fall KGW will have one or two days when there is not so hour after 12 noon for sale.

Roberta La Salle, familiarly known as "Our Little Tea" by staff members of KHJ, is singing delightful Southern songs during the Melody Master's programme over KHJ every Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

From 8 to 10 on Wednesday nights KVI, Tacoma, broadcasts an entertaining programme called the Air Circus, which originates in the studios of KJR, and is heard over KPBC and KMJ. Baron Keyes is responsible for the creation of this programme and its interesting characters.

Al Bernard and Billy Beard, comedy pair who go on the National Broadcasting Company System as the Raybeaux Twins, claim to use original jokes and none other. The two spend several hours together a week thinking up new jokes. Then they take several more hours to rehearse them. All in all the business of joksmiths is a difficult one, they find.

Al Cajol, whose syncopated piano numbers won him a large following among jazz enthusiasts, is back again at KPQZ as studio accompanist and will be heard over that station regularly.

Devotees of bridge can polish up their game by listening to the broadcast on bridge given over KOL every Wednesday from 8 to 8:30 p.m.

Just as motion pictures developed out of short simple scenes into stories of real entertainment and educational value, so radio programmers are charging from purely musical numbers into programmes which, while they are still entertainment par excellence, are full of educational value. The miniature biographies which are being written for the General Electric Company by Grace Sanderson Mirfield and are broadcast every Monday night over KGO at 8:30 o'clock are an example of such entertainment with educational value.

MOTORIST FINED

L. O Griffith pleaded guilty through his counsel, Mr. William T. Straith, in the city police court yesterday, to a charge of driving in the common danger on August 23, and was fined $12. The court charge was the outcome of a collision at the corner of Government and Michigan Streets, between automobiles driven by the defendant and L. B. Raven, in which the latter's car turned over on its side, but no one was injured. The details were outlined to the court by Constable Duncan McPherson.

The charge against J. L. Raven, who was charged with driving to the common danger, was withdrawn.

Why Farmers Prefer Endowment Insurance

HAVING insured farmers for nearly sixty years, we do not know of any group of men to whom life insurance has been more beneficial. Our experience has been that the average farmer lives out the terms of his policy, and profits personally from his thrift.

The most popular policy with farmers is the Endowment Policy. It is generally bought for the amount of any mortgage that stands against property, so that funds to pay off the mortgage will be available at maturity, or in the event of premature death.

Every farmer who is physically fit should own life insurance, and if he buys a Confederation Life policy we can and will arrange for premiums to be paid at convenient times.

Write for a pamphlet entitled "Mrs. Matheson Was a Farmer." It tells of her experience with Endowment Insurance. Policy Accumulating Fund Dependable Benefits. Address—

FROM every corner of the country have come enthusiastic endorsements of the Marquette—"A GREAT Performer," "A wonderful road car." "Pick-up that shoots you to top speed in NO time." "A MARVEL on hills." "Power to give away." "As smartly designed and finished as a custom-built car."

Prove it for yourself. Test the Marquette's pick-up and its power. Try out its speed and stamina. Measure its amazing economy. Compare its brilliant behavior and its wonderful roadability with those of any car anywhere near its price. There's nothing like it in the field!

Everywhere, the Marquette has conclusively shown that it is the most extraordinary value in complete quality ever offered in its price class. Its features are, without exception, fine-car features. The handsomely tailored Bodies by Fisher strike a smart new note in style. Only Marquette in its class provides the wonderful new non-glare windshield, with the seven-degree angle of safety, which protects the driver's eyes from distracting headlight or sun reflections. The Marquette's remarkable power plant has LARGER piston displacement than that of any other car of comparable price —yet this wonderfully efficient engine actually requires LESS gasoline and oil to ride by its unrivaled performance.

Compare the Marquette by ANY standard. Make EVERY test. Here are sparkling performance, satisfying economy, unfailing endurance!—here are easy comfort, distinctive beauty, rare value—here in the Marquette is every excellent quality that makes a motor car complete. See the Marquette. Judge it by the highest standards—then DRIVE this swift, distinctive new six.

Insurance People Aid Movement

HOME OWNER NEEDS INSURANCE

Participant in Modernization Movement Is Safeguarded Until Obligations Are Met.

The home owner who is interested in modernizing his house will find a varied number of institutions waiting to aid him in solving his problems.

Not only the lumber companies, the plumbing shops, the interior decorators' establishments and the electrical supply houses, but also the insurance organizations have a service they can render. Usually the insurance companies are not considered as being interested in the home modernizing movement, but nevertheless they have a definite place in the programme.

The increased value of the property due to the modernizing of the home makes an increase in the amount of insurance placed on the dwelling necessary. Insurance is protection and the wise owner is going to make certain that his investment is adequately covered against fire.

The thoughtful owner carries plenty of fire insurance not only on the building itself but also on the household goods within.

Life insurance is another form of protection that is rarely considered when modernizing, yet it plays a very important part in financing the improvements.

Since the owner of the property when making a loan to cover the cost of modernizing assumes additional responsibilities, it is wise to make certain that the loan will be paid in event of his death. Life insurance may be secured which, upon the death of the property owner, will be applied on the outstanding loan.

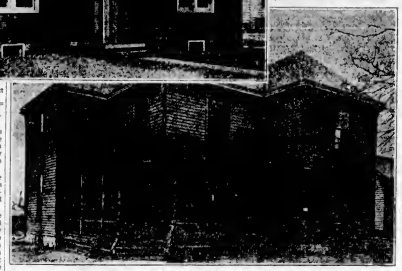
Such a provision as this makes certain that the financing of the property is assured. Although death may claim the owner, the property by obligations immediately becomes free and unencumbered.

Various types of policies are available and full details will always be carefully explained by local insurance agents who are experienced in writing policies of this sort.

Many insurance organizations are permitted by law to acquire real estate mortgages. In this way they enable the home owner to finance a loan on his property. They are, in fact, another source of money in addition to the banks or building and loan associations which are often called on for loans for improving real estate.

Old Corner House Becomes Modern Home

No One Wanted to Rent This House as It Originally Appeared. But When It Was Modernized—I It's Rented Now.



Old Houses Like This Are a Drain on the Pocketbook of the Owner. They Stand Neglected and Deserted, an Expense and Loss. After This House Was Remodeled It was Again Photographed and is Shown Above

Window and Door Screens of Copper Are Rustproof

When remodeling the house it will often be necessary to make or purchase new screens to guard against flies, mosquitoes and other flying insects.

Many home-owners insist that these screens shall be made of copper or bronze.

Copper and bronze screens are rustproof. They are long-lived and will last many seasons without attention. This is a distinct advantage as the repair bills on screens are few and far between.

Ordinary wire screens rust and quickly shatter. Each Spring a few have to be replaced and often before Fall holes develop here and there over the surface. Copper screens entirely eliminate this trouble.

When choosing screens make certain that the mesh is fine enough to prevent the entrance of insects yet of such texture that it will not collect and hold dust.

In 1927-28 the wheat production of the world was 4,815,400,000 bushels, of which Canada produced 479,960,000 bushels, ranking third, with Russia in first place and the United States in second, says Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

Three Reasons for Changing From Old-Time Heating Methods to Oil Are

Economy Convenience Comfort

It follows that the burner that gives you each of these advantages IN THE FULLEST is the burner you want in your home.

The HART OIL BURNER is able to do just that thing—it is a burner ten years ahead of the field—it is the fastest selling burner in the Northwest today.

Many important HART features prove the contention that no other oil burner provides such a complete measure of economy, convenience and comfort as the HART.

MODERNIZING AIDS RENTING

Those old homes that stand idle month after month are hard to rent for some one. The old house in the lower illustration was just such a case. Not only was it a drain on the owner's pocketbook, but also an eyesore in the neighborhood.

Old property like this is hard to rent. No one wants to move into a decayed looking dwelling, no matter how sound the timbers or well constructed the frame. So the old places go begging or are rented at figures that represent losses rather than profits.

But in this case the owner was wise. He recognized his handicap, invested a little money in reconstruction and had a modern up-to-date dwelling as the result—a profit-maker and a credit to his acumen.

The old porch which ran around two sides was torn away when the improvements were started. It was ugly, dilapidated and a dust catcher. Instead, a small stoop was built for the entrance from the street, a shingle-covered shelter protecting the entrance from inclement storms.

A charming sunroom now occupies the place once devoted to the porch. The roof lines over this section have been changed to the advantage of the structure.

Many of the window openings have been enlarged and a pair of sash inserted in these openings. The upper sash of each pair are made with small lights, a style popular at present among builders.

The old tin roof when covered the house was removed and varicolored shingles used. The mansard roof effects have been eliminated at each end of the roof by forming gables. Small ventilators with horizontal louvres in these gables thoroughly air the attic.

In general the rooms within the structure remain as originally designed. The sun parlor was added, taking the place of one end of the crowding porch. A friendly fireplace now adds a cheerful note of hospitality to the large living-room.

Colors in Kitchen Add Cheerfulness

Nowadays the kitchen is becoming one of the most cheerful rooms of the house. Color has been introduced to liven the floors, the walls and the gas ranges.

Usually the kitchen was the sombre, tired-looking room of work. The living-room, bedroom and dining-room were all cheerfully decked out, but the kitchen remained drab and uninteresting.

Now color has been introduced. Kitchen ranges are decorated in gay, vivid colors. Reds and greens form the basis of color schemes that are carried through the room. The walls may be tinted in harmony and linoleum chosen to meet the mood.

Linoleum is fast becoming the favorite floor covering for the kitchen. It is sanitary, being armed with a dirt-resisting lacquer which prevents dust and grease from taking permanent lodging. It can be easily cleaned and tiresome scrubbing is eliminated through its use. Then, too, it is colorful, being made in a wide variety of patterns that enable the tasteful housewife to plan a decorative design for the kitchen that will meet the most artistic eye.

Although it does not give the source of its information, The London Daily Telegraph has made the definite announcement that the next Imperial Conference will be held in Ottawa about the middle of next year.

Perfect Floors for Your New Home Are Assured by the Use of

Dominion Inlaid Linoleum

In New Domolac Finish

Inlaid Linoleum with the new lacquer finish gives a soft lustre effect, and makes the surface practically moisture and stain proof, while the firm nonporous texture makes for greater durability from surface to base.

We supply this linoleum in a large range of new and artistic designs in standard quality moulded inlaid, also in the new marble tile and parquetry inlaid.

Modern linoleum laying, where good quality linoleum is being put in place for permanent floors, is best done by cementing over 16-oz. felt paper that has been previously cemented to the floor.

Color has always been one of the distinctive qualities of brick. In the earliest days of brick making, so far as the archaeologists have determined, color was a supreme requisite. They made in ancient Babylon and Ur brick with glazed and highly-colored surfaces for ornamental purposes.

Today the common brick offers a greater variety of color than ever before. Color that is not for a season only, but is burned-in and lasting. Color that persists as long as the wall stands. Color that exerts a permanent appeal.

Prospective builders find much of interest in investigating the possibilities of common brick for exterior walls. Not only in the beauty of texture in skintling brickwork. For instance, but in the matter of cost. No permanent wall costs as little as that of common brick.

CHESS NEWS AND NOTES

Ireland—The Taltican champion. J. J. O'Hanlon, has accepted an invitation to play in the Christmas Congress at Hastings this year. A fight with Chajchanon, who has promised to play, delighted the Irishman, a strong combinationist.

Nimowitch, the victor of Carlsbad, Dr. Aarchin regards him as a very adroit artist in his style of chess, a philosopher in his writings on chess, and one who keenly senses the human psychology present in a contest, meaning he reads the mental condition of an opponent and shapes his style of game according-ly. Aside from the foregoing, which is to be undoubted, the writer's view of Nimowitch's game, from a scientific standpoint, is not an enthusiastic as the Dane's victories might warrant, yet he is in a class by himself. He is eccentric in his style, at times violating fundamental principles of development, and from the venturesome character of which he frequently profits, particularly when an opponent blunders in the sound attack invited by such tactics. He is nothing if not original. No opponent can ever expect him to play as he ever did before, consequently each game he plays is unconventional, whether so by a mere transposition of opening moves or to the limit of daring, where other masters fear to tread. But this is what the chess lover desires. It is the like why we all enjoy Marshall, only "Nimmo" uses better judgment in playing his cards. Such an artist cannot be an exemplar or teacher. It requires a high order of genius to so toy with the settled principles successfully. To say he should have lost loses sight of all the psychological considerations, moral effects and, in particular instances, the superior talent he possesses guides him to the line which for the time being is the essential factor. For one to so defy the laws of the science he must be a great tactician, courageous, adroit, imaginative alert and possess a keen understanding of the human emotions in the presence of combat. Ordinarily these qualities more than compensate for any seeming deficiency in fundamental requirements and account for his general success in tournament play. Doubtless he is familiar with fundamentals, but his impulse for originality, with its moral effect on an opponent, very likely prompts his play. Only when he meets a master strategist need he fear, and there are only a few such. These playing characteristics, however, with a quaint piquant vivacity in manner, create a personality in chess that has endeared itself to many. His victory was popular. At a tournament banquet tendered the masters he modestly expressed the hope that he had earned the privilege to contest for the world title.—John F. Barry in The Boston Transcript.

Budapest—The capital of the champion nation has a tournament in celebration of the nineteenth anniversary of its chess club, arranged as a memorial of the late Josef Base, one of the founders. He played in the London Exhibition Tournament of 1851, won by Adolf Andersen, who offered Base that if either was first prize he "divide." The fourteen players represent ten different countries. The standing follows: Capablanca, 8½-½; Havasi and Rubenbach, each, 7-1; Vajda and Tartakower, each, 2½-1½; Boedi, Przepiorka and Endre Steiner, each, 2-1; Menchelli and Thomas each, 1½-2½; Colle and Proksa, each, 1-3; Fleischmann, ½-3½; Cleru Marocsy is tournament manager.

Wiesbaden—On the eve of the match for the world title the agent of The New York Evening Post interviewed Dr. Rhi. Lasker, who said: "Take me from that one interfered, one can never tell what may happen in a world championship match, and these two men are too much alike to make a forecast. Both know all styles of openings, all varieties of middle play and all possibilities to end the play. You cannot judge by their tournament records, for in individual matches there enter certain influences which are hard to account for. The effect of one personality pitted against another often upsets all calculations based on records." Bogoljubow was asked who will win, replied: "The man who deserves to win. He considered which the better tactician and himself the better strategist."

Leaf Is Kneaded With Treacle and Smoked in Hookah Pipes by Castes

From the highest to the lowest in India, one finds a great fondness for tobacco in one form or another. It is difficult to believe there ever was a time when this fragrant weed was not indulged in by Indians, but there does not seem to be any ground for believing that tobacco, as we know it, was used in India before the beginning of the seventeenth century, when it was introduced into the Deccan by the Portuguese and then carried up to the north.

When Tavernier visited India in the middle of the seventeenth century, he found it grown in large quantities about Burhanpur, "where a considerable proportion was left to rot on the ground. Asad Beg is therefore to be given the credit for possible introducing the weed to the royal family.

When we come to the days of John Company we find that smoking was very popular, though the most popular form was the hookah. When the meal was finished the hookah-bar prepared "the various hookahs, from each of which long tubes to be used for drawing in the smoke pended. When a guest or so men were put into their smoke, a note similar to continuous snoring proceeded through the room.

The hookah is an Indian pipe for smoking through water, and as late as 1840 it was still common at Calcutta dinner-tables as well as regimental mess-tables. Many of the old Anglo-Indians retained their love for the hookah when they returned to England.

There were then certain rules regulating its use, for we find that in 1792 the rules for the Calcutta Subscription Dances provided:

"That hookahs be not admitted into the ballroom during any part of the night. But hookahs might be admitted to the supper rooms, to the card rooms, to the boxes in the theatre, and to each side of the assembly room, between the large pillars and the wall."

We are also told that in former days it was considered a heinous offence to step over another man's hookah and that several duels were fought on account of this. The users of the hookah were not satisfied with the coarse tobacco and they added sweet-scented Persian tobacco, sweet herbs, sugar, spice, etc.

Even in those days the ladies participated in the pleasure and many of them have attempted to describe the effects of smoking the hookah.

SMOKED FROM HOLE

The tobacco used by the poor in India is of a low grade. In Upper India the farmer cuts the tobacco leaf into shreds and kneads it up with treacle and water till it becomes a black, sticky mass, which has to be kept slightly by a lump of red-hot charcoal placed upon it. The cost of a whole day's pleasure is about two pipes.

A very primitive method of smoking is followed in the Himalayan districts. Here two holes are made in the snow or in the earth of a sloping bank and connected together by an underground channel. In one hole is placed the lighted tobacco and the smoker, crouching over the second hole, sucks out the smoke.

Sometimes a reed is inserted in the second hole which enables the smoker to enjoy his pleasure without stooping. It is necessary, if one wishes to make a good smoke from Indian tobacco to take steps to modify its strength by the addition of sweet-scented materials and also by passing it through the water as mentioned above.

We are told by Buchanan-Hamilton that at the beginning of the nineteenth century, only one division of Brahmans in Bengal, the Gajavalias, or low temple priests, smoked. But gradually a change of habit took place and smoking has now become practically universal all over India.

THE CIGARETTE TODAY

The cigarette today is driving the native bidi from the market to a certain extent, though the latter, on account of its extreme cheapness, is sure to die very hard. There is still some objection to the tobacco habit in some parts of this country, as it is believed that the narcotic properties of the plant are due to the presence of some kind of spirit, which when volitalized in the smoke, brings disease on children.

It is interesting to note, on the authority of Crooke, that in some village rest-houses "parish" pipes are still to be seen. Each has a specially colored rag attached to it, which shows to which caste it belongs. There are some pipes allotted to Brahmans some to Musalmans and some to low caste people.

"Many well dressed girls," says a writer, "buy their clothes on the instalment plan."

Most are wearing the first instalment.

"I have come out on top at last," exulted a business man the other day.

He should get hair-restorer.

The above hand is one that arose in the Duplicate Auction contest for The Auction Bridge Magazine Trophy for Teams of Four at the Annual Congress of the American Whist League held this year in Atlantic City. The hand is worthy of comment, first, because at two tables South bid and played the hand at Hearts, failing to go game; and, second, because at the remaining tables where it was played at No Trumps, but two South players made the small slam, which is easily made in the hand, if played for

SALIENT POINTS OF THE BIDDING

Auction: South's hand, by reason of its great high card strength, its Quick Tricks and 4-3-3-3 type of suit distribution, is distinctly a No Trump to start with and not a Heart. The grave danger of an introductory suit bid with hands that should preferably be played as No Trump (unless partner's holding is of an extreme suit type, such as, for example, the distributions held by West and East) is evidenced by the fact that, at the tables where a Heart was bid, North left in such bid with the result that but nine tricks were made instead of the twelve that can be made at No Trump.

Contract: The contract bidding is purely hypothetical as the contest was Auction, not Contract. At Contract, the Heart can be bid with safety as with it's distributed high card values South can bid two Hearts originally. As this bid demands a response by partner, there is little or no danger that South will not be provided with a second opportunity to bid, and thus, to arrive at the best bid of the combined hands for game or slam. North's assist to bid three Hearts is based upon South's guarantee of a further bid, following which North will be in a better position to show the real strength of his holding. South's three No Trumps indicates clearly his preference for No Trumps unless partner holds more than three Hearts. North, now confident that South holds high card protection in all four suits, jumps his assist to the No Trumps to invite a slam bid by South. South, with greater high card strength than indicated by his previous bids, accepts the invitation by bidding a Small Slam.

THE PLAY

West opens the Seven of Hearts, which South wins with the Ten. With this opening South can count positively seven tricks, four Hearts, three Spades, two Diamonds and two Clubs. To set up the needed twelfth trick for a Small Slam is the problem. To attempt to set up an extra Club trick by leading a small Club from Dummy on the chance of East holding the King, will fail even though East holds the King, should East refuse to go up with his King on the first round, but go up with such card on the second.

Much defence by East would block South from making his Ace of Clubs in Dummy, as to lead through East twice would involve taking out both his Heart and Diamond entry. Also, to play for a possible 3-3 split of the outstanding six Clubs or six Diamonds is practically marked at futile because of the known uneven distribution of the suits as evidenced by East's failure to follow the first Heart lead. Therefore, South's best plan of play is to try for a squeeze by leading out four rounds of Hearts followed by three rounds of Spades and discarding two of his small Diamonds, conserving his four Clubs.

His next play is the lead of his Queen of Clubs. At this point of play East will be found clearly marked with three Clubs and three Diamonds, consequently whatever East returns, South must make the Small Slam. It will be noted that should South discard two Clubs from Dummy instead of two Diamonds, as was the case at some of the tables, that a Small Slam cannot be effected.

CLUB ENGAGES VISITING ARTISTS

Ladies' Musical Club Announces a Series of Three Concerts by Professional Talent

Announcement is made by the Ladies' Musical Club of a series of at least three concerts by visiting professional talent to be given during the current season. The concerts will be on October 16, November 20 and February 26, the artists to appear being as follows: At the first, Myron Jacobson and Bertha Posey, pianists, and Alice Bogardus, soprano; second, the Corcoran Trio, comprising Peter Mennhlum, violinist; Keda Levienne, 'cellist, and Bertha Posey, pianist; and third, Emily Bentley Dew, violinist.

The Ladies' Musical Club has arranged its schedule of work for the season so as to include at least two innovations designed to lend interest to the life of the club and increase the membership. The most important of these from an educational standpoint is the proposed formation of a junior club, made up of student members of the parent organization. The club executive is anxious to make this phase of the clubs work a success from the very start, and asks for the help and cooperation of parents and teachers in securing as many charter members as possible. It is because they have the welfare of these younger musicians in mind that the executive has secured the services of the above-mentioned artists, who constitute three of the most outstanding musical attractions to be had on the Pacific Coast.

STUDENTS' RECITAL

The Students' Recital, held over from last Spring, and postponed on account of the Musical Festival, will take place at the Crystal Garden on Saturday, September 28, at 3 p.m., sharp. It will be held in the concert room, and tea will be served after the programme, for which a very small charge will be made.

It is hoped, by the executive, that as many as can possibly do so will secure their membership cards before the first recital from the secretary, Mrs. F. D. Brae. There will be some very fine talent appearing on the programme, about ten students taking part. As the board of directors for the Junior Club will be chosen from the active membership, there will be a special meeting arranged for that purpose after the student recital.

The club year books are in the hands of the printer, and will be ready for distribution on Monday, September 23, at Fletcher Brothers, where a committee will be prepared to take membership dues on and after that date, up to the day of the Students' Recital on Saturday. Membership cards may be obtained in the meantime from Mrs. F. D. Brae or Mrs. F. G. Aldous.

In December it is the wish of the club to have the gold medallists of the Victoria Musical Festival give the programme, and this will be an afternoon concert with a tea following.

The January recital will be given by Mrs. Guy Goddard and other active members, to be followed by a tea.

In March it is planned to have Pearl McDonald in a lecture, "Humor in Music," with active members of the Victoria Ladies' Club to assist her in illustrating her lecture. Tea will be served at the close of the programme.

The April recital will be in the nature of a piano recital by Vern Russell Brooks, of Vancouver, with the assistance of active members of the Victoria Ladies' Musical Club. As this will be an afternoon concert also, tea will be served at the close of the programme.

All the afternoon recitals will be in the concert room of the Crystal Gardens and a small charge made for tea. The place of holding the evening concerts will be announced later.

ASSSOCIATE MEMBERS

It will be of interest to those who contemplate joining the club to know that men may join the club as associate members. While the concerts are open to nonmembers on the payment of an admission fee, it is felt that a large membership is a greater encouragement to those who take part in the concerts, and to the board of directors, as the interest shown in that way far outweighs the monetary gains resulting from a large attendance at individual concerts, when the admission fee is greater. The Ladies' Musical Club is not ambitious to become a mere "Musical Bureau." At the same time the directors realize that it is impossible to stand still and refuse nothing to Victoria musicians who will give pleasure and inspiration to those who for any reason are not able to hear these artists who have made a reputation for themselves, helps in no small degree to justify the very existence of the club.

An effort was made to bring the Hart House Quartette, but this organization had been engaged to play in Victoria under other auspices. With three evening concerts by outside artists, three afternoon ones with the active members of the club to assist, and a recital by the winners of the gold medals at the Musical Festival, the club year promises to be a most interesting one. Having tea after the afternoon recitals, at which student members will be asked to assist, will serve the double purpose of allowing members to come in closer contact with each other, and with those who belong to the club for the first time.

"My roommate always gets to the shower first and makes me wait for him. What do you think of a fellow like that?"

"Why, I should say your roommate must be a gentleman of the first water."

"I'm sorry to hear your engagement is broken off."

"Yes, Charlie acted horribly."

"But I thought you broke it off yourself?"

"Oh, yes, but he made no fuss about it.

Flip Learns About Back Doors

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

Who builds and knows what he's about
Has never less than two ways out.
—Johnny Chuck.

Bowser the Hound trotted down the Long Lane, through the cornfield and out across the Green Meadows to where Flip the Terrier was digging excitedly. So intent was Flip on what he was doing that he didn't see Bowser coming. It wasn't until Bowser spoke that Flip knew that he had come.

"What are you doing? Digging for exercise?" inquired Bowser.

Flip stopped digging long enough to look up at Bowser and reply, "There's somebody down in there and I'm going to get him. Come on and help me get him."

"It looks to me," replied Bowser, "as if you just about fill up that hole. How can two of us dig?"

"We can take turns anyway," said Flip.

Bowser shook his head. "I'll let you do the digging, Flip," said he. "When I was your age I used to be a pretty good digger myself, but I'm not so fond of it now. You dig and I'll keep watch."

So Flip went back to his digging and Bowser sat down to watch. There was a twinkle in his eye. In fact, if you could have looked in Bowser's face you might have guessed that he had some little joke all his own that he was laughing at inside.

After a while Flip backed out and sprawled out on the mound of sand that had piled up in front of the hole. He was hot and tired and he panted. He blew sand out of his nose and tried to shake it out of his ears. He was a little bit discouraged. "That hole goes down pretty deep," said he.

"I thought likely," replied Bowser. "I don't want to discourage you, but I think it will take you the rest of the day to get to the bottom of that hole. What do you expect to find when you get there?"

"The one who dug the hole," replied Flip promptly. "I could smell him when I first poked my nose in there and there hasn't been a chance for him to get out, for I have been right here on the job."

"Do you expect him to wait for you?" inquired Bowser.

"What else can he do?" demanded Flip.

"He might be digging all the time you are digging," replied Bowser.

So Flip went back to his digging and Bowser sat down to watch

Flip's face fell. "I hadn't thought of that," he exclaimed. "What'll he do, I think I can outdig him. Phew, it's hot!"

"Have you kept watch of the back door?" asked Bowser in a most matter-of-fact way.

Flip lifted his head quickly. "Back doors? Back doors? What back doors?" he demanded.

"Why, that is the front door of somebody's home, so of course there must be a back door, perhaps two or three," replied Bowser. "When you go in at the front door to look for any one, it is just as well to have some one else watching the back door."

"I don't believe there is any back door," replied Flip. "There isn't a back door, where is it?"

Bowser got to his feet and lazily began to walk around, sniffing. Not far away he found a hole partly covered with grass. "Here is one," said he. A few minutes later he found another. Flip ran over to them. He sniffed in each. At one of them he found the scent that he had found in the hole he was digging, and it was very fresh. It was stronger outside than inside. He looked up at Bowser. Bowser was grinning. "I wouldn't dig any more if I were you," said he. "There is no one at home."
